

Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE) Webinar

We are pleased to invite you to an informative webinar hosted by the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Postsecondary Education to discuss the FY25 Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE) competition. Last week, the Department unveiled seven new priorities to bolster the Trump Administration's vision to reform higher education. These priorities will support four areas of national need, including:

- Expanding the use of artificial intelligence;
- Protecting and promoting civil discourse on college and university campuses;
- Encouraging accreditation reform; and
- Building capacity for high-quality short-term programs.

Department leadership will provide updates and technical assistance on the new FIPSE competition and answer questions from current and aspiring grantees.
