A. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The U.S. Department of State announces an open competition for proposals to design, plan, and implement the 2018 Young Southeast Asian Leaders Initiative (YSEALI) Summit, contingent on the availability of funds. The three-day Summit, to be held in Singapore in early December 2018, will gather approximately 150 participants aged 18-35 around the theme “The United States and ASEAN: Partners in Growth and Innovation.” The 2018 Summit, which marks YSEALI’s fifth anniversary, will showcase innovative approaches to economic cooperation and growth by U.S. companies, organizations, and institutions present in ASEAN and allow young innovators and entrepreneurs from both the United States and ASEAN to connect with each other and with participating experts. Throughout the Summit, participants will showcase projects, receive mentorship, explore opportunities to expand their work, exchange ideas on how to foster economic growth in their communities, and find avenues for stronger economic cooperation between the United States and ASEAN.

YSEALI (<https://asean.usmission.gov/yseali/>), launched on December 3rd, 2013, is the U.S. government’s signature initiative to strengthen partnerships with emerging leaders in the 10 ASEAN countries (Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam). YSEALI is a 120,000-strong network of young Southeast Asian leaders supported by four pillars – economic growth, sustainable development, education, and civic engagement. YSEALI participants and alumni work across national borders to solve regional challenges and strengthen the U.S.-ASEAN partnership.

Priority Region: Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN)

Project Objectives:

The 2018 YSEALI Summit will showcase innovative approaches to economic cooperation and growth by U.S. companies, organizations, and institutions in ASEAN. It will connect (a) top-performing alumni of YSEALI programs and young American entrepreneurs/innovators with a strong interest in Southeast Asia to (b) U.S. companies and institutions present in ASEAN countries. The Summit will also provide a forum for participants to discuss and propose innovative approaches to fostering economic growth and strengthening partnerships between the U.S. and ASEAN. During the Summit, participants will learn about the entrepreneurship, investment, and innovation environment in ASEAN from U.S. companies and institutions on the ground in Southeast Asia, and how their projects can be a part of the U.S.-ASEAN economic ecosystem. Above all, it is an opportunity for participants to showcase projects, exchange ideas, network, and champion new opportunities for U.S.-ASEAN partnership and investment.

Content of the 2018 YSEALI Summit may include:

- Best practices in innovation and partnership
- The role of public private partnerships and corporate social responsibility in spurring economic growth
- Incubators
- Expanding digital literacy
- Entrepreneurship as a driver for community development
- Healthy start-up ecosystems

The three-day Summit may include a mix of information sessions, panels, mentoring opportunities, and skills training to be led by experts from Singapore, other ASEAN nations, and the United States. These experts should have connections to U.S. companies and institutions in ASEAN. The Summit may also give participants an opportunity to showcase their projects to potential partners and investors (with a “gallery walk” or similar activity). Additionally, the program may offer opportunities to build camaraderie between participants through networking events, site visits, and a community service project.

The Summit should include a grants competition to award small grants to outstanding projects designed by participants to be implemented over nine months following the summit. The Recipient should also responsibly oversee the chosen grants’ design and implementation, and monitor and report to the Department on the progress of the grant(s).

The Recipient shall develop robust private sector partnerships to ensure the highest caliber private sector participation possible through expert presentations, mentors, training, site visits, and possibly internship offers. Private sector partners and institutions chosen to partner with the Summit should be cutting edge, have a reputation for innovation, and take part in or support corporate social responsibility programs that correspond to YSEALI pillars, values, and interests. Proposals will be evaluated on the quality, innovation, and logical continuity of the proposed partnerships/sponsorships with the Summit’s theme. All partnerships will be subject to approval by the U.S. Department of State.

Finally, the Recipient shall schedule the event at a mutually agreed upon date and location in Singapore; manage the online application and selection process; develop the agenda and content for the Summit; recruit speakers, mentors, and facilitators; manage all travel logistics for participants, speakers, mentors, and facilitators; generate content for traditional and social media distribution, and measure program results..

Participants and Audiences:

The Summit will bring together approximately 100 Southeast Asian alumni of YSEALI programs, including the U.S.-based Professional and Academic Fellows program, YSEALI Generation Regional Workshops, and the Seeds for the Future Competition. Other participants will include approximately 20 U.S. alumni of YSEALI reverse exchanges, and approximately 30 young American entrepreneurs and innovators, for a total of no more than 150 participants.

The grantee will coordinate with the U.S. Department of State to recruit YSEALI alumni between the ages of 18-35 as participants in the YSEALI Summit. The application to participate in the Summit will be open on a competitive basis to the aforementioned categories of alumni between the ages of 18-35. To be selected, applicants must demonstrate their substantial involvement in projects that have had a considerable impact in their communities, countries, or the region. Projects that demonstrate active regional engagement or strengthen partnerships between the United States and ASEAN will be given special consideration.

The Recipient will coordinate with the U.S. Department of State to select approximately 20 American alumni of YSEALI reverse exchanges on a competitive basis. Selected applicants must demonstrate a commitment to YSEALI, to the ASEAN region, and to enhancing ties between the United States and ASEAN.

Approximately 30 American innovators and entrepreneurs ages 18-35 will be selected via a competitive process after demonstrating excellence in their field and a keen interest in Southeast Asia and the ASEAN market. The Recipient shall propose a plan to target and select these participants.

The Recipient will create an online application process for these three different participant categories and work with the U.S. Department of State to advertise the opportunity to YSEALI alumni, American alumni of YSEALI exchanges, and young American entrepreneurs and innovators. Selection of final participants will be made by the Recipient in consultation with the U.S. Department of State.

Communication: The Summit should be conducted in English.

Travel: Proposals should include travel costs associated with each activity. Proposals should include management of travel and lodging logistics. Proposals must show how grant funds will be used to cover the cost of transportation, visas, travel insurance, lodging, and meals or per diem for eligible participants. All travel funded under the grant agreement should be economy class and must comply with Fly America requirements.

E. APPLICATION REVIEW INFORMATION

E.1 Criteria

Each application will be evaluated and rated on the basis of the evaluation criteria provided below. Each application will be evaluated on its own merits and not against other applications received for the same award.

Quality of Project Idea

Applications should be responsive to the NOFO, appropriate in the regional context, and should exhibit originality, substance, precision, and relevance to the stated mission.

Project Planning/Ability to Achieve Objectives

A strong application will include a clear articulation of how the proposed project activities contribute to the overall project objectives, and each activity will be clearly developed and detailed. A comprehensive monthly work plan should demonstrate substantive undertakings and the logistical capacity of the organization. Objectives should be ambitious, yet measurable results-focused and achievable in a reasonable time frame. Applications should address how the project will engage relevant stakeholders and should identify local partners as appropriate. If local partners have been identified, the U.S. Department of State strongly encourages applicants to submit letters of support from proposed in-country partners. Additionally, applicants should describe the division of labor among the direct applicant and any local partners. If applicable, applications should identify target areas for activities, target participant groups or selection criteria for participants, and the specific roles of sub-awardees, among other pertinent details. In particularly challenging operating environments, applications should include contingency plans for overcoming potential difficulties in executing the original work plan and address any operational or programmatic security concerns and how they will be addressed.

Institution's Record and Capacity

The U.S. Department of State will consider the past performance of prior recipients and the demonstrated potential of new applicants. Applications should demonstrate an institutional record of responsible fiscal management and full compliance with all reporting requirements for past grants. Proposed personnel and institutional resources should be adequate and appropriate to achieve the project's objectives.

Cost Effectiveness

The U.S. Department of State strongly encourages applicants to clearly demonstrate project cost-effectiveness in their application, including examples of leveraging institutional and other resources. However, cost-sharing or other examples of leveraging other resources is not required and does not need to be included in the budget. Inclusion in the budget does not result in additional points awarded during the review process. Budgets however should have low and/or reasonable overhead and administration costs and applicants should provide clear explanations and justifications for these costs in relation to the work involved. All budget items should be clearly explained and justified to demonstrate its necessity, appropriateness, and its link to the project objectives.

Please note: If cost-share is included in the budget then the recipient must maintain written records to support all allowable costs that are claimed as its contribution to cost-share, as well as costs to be paid by the Federal government. Such records are subject to audit. In the event the recipient does not meet the minimum amount of cost-sharing as stipulated in the recipient's budget, the U.S. Department of State's contribution may be reduced in proportion to the recipient's contribution.

Project Monitoring and Evaluation

Complete applications will include a detailed plan of how the project's progress and effect will be monitored and evaluated throughout the project. Incorporating a well-designed monitoring and evaluation component into a project is one of the most efficient methods of documenting the progress and results (intended and unintended) of a project. Applications should demonstrate the capacity to provide objectives with measurable outputs and outcomes and engage in robust monitoring and assessment of project activities.

The quality of the M&E plan will be judged on the narrative explaining how both monitoring and evaluation will be carried out, as well as who will be responsible for those related activities. The M&E plan will also be rated on the M&E performance indicator table. The output and outcome-based performance indicators should not only be separated by project objectives but also should match the objectives, outcomes, and outputs detailed in the logic model.

Performance indicators should be clearly defined (i.e., explained how the indicators will be measured and reported) either within the table or with a separate Performance Indicator Reference Sheet (or "PIRS"). For each performance indicator, the table should also include baselines and yearly and cumulative targets, data collection tools, data sources, types of data disaggregation, and frequency of monitoring and evaluation. There should also be metrics to capture how project activities target the most at risk and vulnerable populations or addresses their concerns, where applicable.

E.2 Review and Selection Process

A technical evaluation panel will evaluate all eligible applications.

E.3 Federal Awardee Performance & Integrity Information System (FAPIIS)

For any Federal award under a notice of funding opportunity, if the Federal awarding agency anticipates that the total Federal share will be greater than the simplified acquisition threshold [$150,000] for any Federal award under a notice of funding opportunity over the period of performance (see 2 CFR 200.88 Simplified Acquisition Threshold), this section must also information applicants:

1. That the Federal awarding agency, prior to making a Federal award with a total amount of Federal share greater than the simplified acquisition threshold, is required to review and consider any information about the applicant that is in the designated integrity and performance system accessible through SAM (currently FAPIIS) (see 41 U.S.C. §2313);
2. That an applicant, at its option, may review information in the designated integrity and performance systems accessible through SAM and comment on any information about itself that a Federal awarding agency previously entered and is currently in the designated integrity and performance system accessible through SAM;
3. That the Federal awarding agency will consider any comments by the applicant, in addition to the other information in the designated integrity and performance system, in making a judgment about the applicant's integrity, business ethics, and record of performance under Federal awards when completing the review of risk posed by applicants as described in 2. CFR 200.205 (Federal awarding agency review of risk posed by applicants).

F.3 Reporting

Applicants should be aware that the U.S. Department of State awards will require regular financial and progress reporting. These reports must be received quarterly, and fully reflect the performance of the grant toward its goals and objectives and its financial status.

Narrative progress reports should reflect the focus on measuring the project's effect on the overarching goals and objectives and should be compiled according to the goals, objectives, outcomes, and outputs as outlined in the award's terms and in the Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Statement. An assessment of the project's overall progress toward goals should be included in each progress report. Where relevant, progress reports should include the following sections:

In addition, attach the M&E plan, comparing the target and actual numbers for the indicators;

A final narrative and financial report must also be submitted within 90 days after the expiration of the award.

Please note: delays in reporting may result in delays of payment approvals and failure to provide required reports may jeopardize the recipient's ability to receive future U.S. government funds.

The U.S. Department of State reserves the right to request any additional programmatic and/or financial project information during the award period.

Indirect Costs: These are costs that cannot be linked directly to the program activities, such as overhead costs needed to help keep the organization operating. If your organization has a Negotiated Indirect Cost Rate (NICRA) and includes NICRA charges in the budget, attach a copy of your latest NICRA. Organizations that have never had a NICRA may request indirect costs of 10 percent of the modified total direct costs as defined in 2 CFR 200.68.

“Cost Sharing” refers to contributions from the organization or other entities other than the U.S. Embassy. It also includes in-kind contributions such as volunteers’ time and donated venues.

Alcoholic Beverages: Please note that award funds cannot be used for alcoholic beverages.
