1. Executive Summary

The U.S. Department of State's U.S. Mission to the UAE announces an open competition to implement the Lunar Payload Design Challenge, a program that brings together U.S. and UAE graduate students in a hands-on, team-based initiative to develop technologies relevant to future lunar missions. The program builds advanced technical and collaborative skills while fostering partnerships between universities, industry, and research institutions. The initiative strengthens U.S.-UAE cooperation in space innovation, highlights U.S. leadership in lunar exploration, and creates pathways for continued collaboration, research advancement, and potential mission integration. This program directly advances U.S. foreign policy priorities under the "Make America More Prosperous" pillar by expanding partnerships in high-growth sectors of the space economy and reinforcing the strength, competitiveness, and collaborative nature of the U.S. innovation ecosystem, and advances Goal 2 of the Bureau of Near Eastern Affairs: Securing opportunities to advance U.S. commercial and strategic interests.

C. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

1. Project Background, Goals, and Objectives

Project Background:

The United States and the United Arab Emirates (UAE) maintain a strong and growing partnership in science, technology, and innovation, including in the space sector. As the UAE continues to invest in advanced space capabilities, including lunar exploration, there is a strategic opportunity to deepen bilateral cooperation by fostering collaboration among emerging leaders in aerospace engineering, robotics, and related fields.

This Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) seeks to strengthen U.S.-UAE collaboration by supporting joint, applied research and development efforts focused on lunar exploration technologies. In particular, the program will emphasize the design and development of payload concepts suitable for inclusion in upcoming lunar missions, aligning with increasing global momentum toward lunar science and commercialization.

Through a hands-on, team-based Lunar Payload Design Challenge, this program will bring together American and Emirati graduate students from institutions with existing space-focused programs to collaboratively develop payload concepts, instruments, and/or related technologies that could contribute to future lunar missions. The initiative will highlight U.S. leadership in space technology and innovation while advancing U.S. foreign policy priorities under the "Make America More Prosperous" pillar by expanding partnerships in high-growth sectors of the space economy.

By connecting participants with leading U.S. academic institutions and potential industry and government partners, the program will promote the strength, competitiveness, and collaborative nature of the U.S. innovation ecosystem.

Previous Efforts and Lessons Learned:

PDS and Mission partners have previously supported educational exchanges, STEM-focused workshops, and innovation challenges aimed at strengthening bilateral ties and building technical capacity. Programs that incorporate hands-on, experiential learning and sustained collaboration between U.S. and foreign participants have demonstrated strong outcomes in participant engagement, skills development, and long-term institutional partnerships.

In contrast, shorter-term or purely lecture-based programming has shown more limited long-term impact. Additionally, programs that are not closely aligned with current industry and research priorities have demonstrated reduced relevance for participants already operating within advanced technical ecosystems.

This project builds on best practices by emphasizing:

- Collaboration between institutions with existing technical capabilities;
- Applied, mission-oriented problem-solving aligned with current lunar exploration priorities;
- Sustained engagement beyond the initial program; and
- Real-world application with potential pathways toward research advancement, commercialization, or mission integration.

The inclusion of a follow-on component further strengthens the program by extending engagement beyond the initial activity and introducing elements of mentorship, industry exposure, and potential advancement toward mission-ready concepts.

Project Audience(s):

- Geographic Location: United States and United Arab Emirates
- Age Group: Graduate-level students (typically ages 22–35)
- Profession / Field: STEM fields including aerospace engineering, electrical engineering, robotics, computer science, and related disciplines

Primary Audiences:

- Emirati Graduate Students: Graduate students in STEM fields, particularly aerospace engineering, electrical engineering, robotics, computer science, or related disciplines, enrolled in UAE universities with established aerospace, engineering, or space-related programs.
- U.S. Graduate Students: Graduate students in STEM fields, particularly aerospace engineering, electrical engineering, robotics, computer science, or related disciplines, enrolled in U.S. universities with established aerospace, engineering, or space-related programs.
- Participating Institutions: U.S. and UAE universities and research institutions with demonstrated experience or ongoing work in space systems, lunar research, or related technological domains. Departments with demonstrated experience in building and testing hardware systems (including prototypes, lab-scale instruments, or field-deployable devices) are strongly encouraged to apply. Teams without prior instrument development experience may participate if they include a clear plan for hardware realization and appropriate technical partnerships.

- Emerging Space Sector Professionals and Partners: Academic institutions, research centers, and early-career professionals engaged in lunar exploration, payload development, or adjacent fields.

Project Goal:

Strengthen U.S.-UAE collaboration in lunar exploration and space innovation by supporting joint development of payload and technology concepts through applied, team-based learning experiences involving institutions with existing space-related capabilities.

Project Objectives:

- Objective 1: Facilitate a collaborative Lunar Payload Design Challenge engaging at least 30 graduate students (15 Emirati and 15 U.S.) from qualified institutions in team-based development of payload or mission-support concepts aligned with lunar exploration priorities, resulting in at least 90 percent of participants demonstrating improved technical and collaborative skills through post-program assessments.
- Objective 2: Increase participants' understanding of U.S. leadership in space technology, particularly in lunar exploration initiatives, and enhance awareness of opportunities for collaboration with U.S. institutions, agencies, and industry partners.
- Objective 3: Support the development of at least 1-3 viable payload or technology concepts with potential applicability to future lunar missions, including those aligned with NASA or partner mission architectures, and facilitate continued collaboration among participating institutions, with at least 50 percent of teams maintaining engagement or advancing their concepts within six months of program completion.

Substantial Involvement

This award will be structured as a Cooperative Agreement, reflecting the substantial involvement of the U.S. Mission in program implementation. The U.S. Mission, through the Public Diplomacy Section, will:

- Provide strategic oversight and ensure alignment with U.S. foreign policy priorities, including advancing bilateral cooperation in high-technology sectors and supporting U.S. leadership in space exploration;
- Assist in identifying relevant U.S. institutional, academic, or industry partners.

- Introduction to the Organization or Individual applying: A description of past and present operations, showing ability to carry out the program, including information on all previous grants from the State Department and/or U.S. government agencies as well as experience with and expertise in areas related to those described in the NOFO. Applicants are encouraged, but not required, to use the attached Applicant Organization Information Survey form to provide this information. If the applicant chooses not to use the attached form, all of the requested information from the form will still need to be addressed in the application package.
- Problem Statement: Clear, concise and well-supported statement of the problem to be addressed and why the proposed program is needed
- Program Methods, Design, Activities, and Deliverables: The “goals” describe what the program is intended to achieve. The “objectives” refer to the intermediate accomplishments on the way to the goals. These should be achievable and measurable. Describe the program activities and how they will help achieve the objectives.
- Proposed Project Schedule and Timeline: The proposed timeline for the program activities. Include the dates, times, and locations of planned activities and events.
- Key Personnel: Names, titles, roles and experience/qualifications of key personnel involved in the program. What proportion of their time will be used in support of this program?

intend to measure and demonstrate progress towards the project's objectives and goals. The key components to the PMP are as follows:

- Monitoring and Evaluation Narrative: In narrative form, applicants should describe how they intend to monitor and evaluate the activities of their award. In addition, the applicant should describe any M&E processes, including key personnel, management structure (where M&E fits into the overall program's staff structure), technology, and as well provide a brief budget narrative explaining any line-item expenditures for M&E listed in the program's budget. If the proposal is from a prior grantee, the proposal discusses how the grantee has adapted, improved or otherwise modified their approach based on learning from previous experience. This narrative is limited to two pages.
- Theory of Change Diagram: Applicants are expected to submit either a Theory of Change diagram or an If-Then Statement that illustrates how project activities will lead to intended outcomes.
- Monitoring and Evaluation Datasheet: The applicant must include their proposed activities and their expected outputs and outcomes as well as the goals and objectives as written in the NOFO. The datasheet's purpose is to explicitly illustrate how a project's activities lead to tangible results (such as increased beneficiary skills, knowledge, or attitudes) that ultimately address a PDS objective.
- The selected applicant's M&E PMP is subject to review and approval before any award will be issued under this NOFO. The selected applicant may be asked to work with U.S. Department of State Monitoring and Evaluation Specialists to ensure the applicant's M&E PMP achieves an expected level of expertise and meets PDS objectives.
- Expenses directly associated with monitoring and evaluation are considered allowable.

3. Budget Justification Narrative

- Detailed Budget - Applicants must submit a detailed line-item budget. Applicants are encouraged to utilize the template provided with the funding opportunity but are not required to do so. Line-item expenditures should be listed in the greatest possible detail. The budget must identify the total amount of funding requested, with a breakdown of amounts to be spent in the following budget categories: personnel; fringe benefits; travel; equipment; supplies; consultants/contracts; other direct costs; and indirect costs. See Annex Section I for a description of the types of costs that should be included in each category. Personnel salaries should include the level of effort and the rate of pay, which should cover the percentage of time each staff member will dedicate to grant-based activities. If an organization is charging an indirect cost rate without a NICRA, it must apply it to the modified total budget costs (MTDC), refer to 2CFR§200.1. Budgets shall be submitted in U.S. dollars and final grant agreements will be conducted in U.S. dollars.

- Budget Justification Narrative – Applicants must submit a budget justification narrative to accompany the detailed line-item budget. The purpose of the budget justification narrative is to supplement the information provided in the detailed budget spreadsheet by justifying how the budget cost elements are necessary to implement project objectives and accomplish the project goals. The budget justification narrative is a tool to help Embassy staff fully understand the budgetary needs of the applicant and is an opportunity to provide descriptive information about the requested costs beyond the constraints of the budget template. Together, the detailed budget spreadsheet, the budget justification narrative, and the SF-424A should provide a complete financial and qualitative description that supports the proposed project plan and should be directly relatable to the specific project components described in the applicant’s proposal.

Additional Budget Notes:

- Awards to Individuals: Please note the following budget guidelines for the Individual Award:
  - Salary/Honoraria: Only the award recipient may receive salary/honoraria from this funding mechanism. The Recipient must be the primary point of contact and manage all programmatic activities.

and provides milestones to indicate progress toward goals and objectives outlined in the proposal. The proposal includes output and outcome indicators and shows how and when those will be measured. Funded projects will have their plans finalized during the negotiation phase, and monitoring plans may be subject to periodic updates throughout the life of the project.

- Sustainability – 15 points: The project proposal describes clearly the approach that will be used to ensure maximum sustainability or advancement of project goals after the end of project activity.

2. Indirect Costs

If two or more applications receive equivalent scores based on the evaluation criteria outlined in this NOFO, preference will be given to the applicant with the lower indirect cost rate, as consistent with Executive Order 14332, Section 4(b)(iii). This preference will only be applied as a tie-breaking mechanism and does not supersede the primary evaluation criteria.

3. Review and Selection Process

- a. Acknowledgement of receipt. Applicants will receive acknowledgment of receipt of their proposal.
- b. Review. All submissions are screened for technical eligibility. If a submission is missing any required forms/documents listed above in Section D. Application Contents and Format, it will be considered ineligible and will not be reviewed by the grants review committee. A technical review panel will review eligible proposals based upon the criteria noted in this NOFO.
- c. Follow up notification. Applicants will generally be notified within 120 days after the NOFO deadline regarding the results of the review panel.

2. Risk Review

- i. Under the merit review as required by 2 CFR 200.206, prior to making a Federal Award the Department will review and consider the following risk factors:
  - a. Financial stability
  - b. Management systems and standards
  - c. History of performance
  - d. Audit reports and findings
  - e. Ability to effectively implement project requirements
- ii. High Risk Designation

Awardees that are deemed to be high risk based on the above risk factors will be held to special award conditions. At a minimum, the recipient and/or project designated as High Risk will be required to submit monthly narrative reports and/or quarterly detailed financial reports. Recipients may also be required, upon request of the Grants Officer or Grants

Officer Representative, to provide electronic copies of receipts or other supporting documentation (e.g., timesheets, travel documents) for costs incurred. The Grants Officer may withhold 10% of the award amount until final reports have been reviewed and approved by the GO. The recipient may be required to pay all salaries supported by the grant via electronic funds transfer. Other special award conditions may also be included if deemed appropriate by the Grants Officer.

iv. Risk Analysis Management

To qualify for final consideration, certain applicants may be required to undertake the Risk Analysis Management (RAM) vetting process by providing Risk Analysis Information (RAI) about their “key individuals” (i.e., individuals with the ability to control applicant organizations’ funds), including “key individuals” from selected sub-recipients. Please note: these individuals could be different from the key personnel listed in the section 4 of required documents. The purpose of vetting potential contractors and grantees is to reduce the risk that federal assistance funding is provided to terrorists or their supporters. Potential grantees will be notified separately if RAI is required. Applicants submit key individuals’ RAI by completing the Risk Analysis Information Form, DS-4184, through the secure web portal at <https://ramportal.state.gov>. The DS-4184 requests the following RAI for each key individual: Full Name; Aliases; Gender; Birth Place; Birthdate; Home/Work Addresses; Phone Numbers; Employer; Professional Title; Email Addresses; Skype ID (if included, email address is also required); Numbers from All Official IDs (e.g., passports, ID cards, etc.); Nationalities; and Social Security Number (if U.S. person). Questions about the DS-4184 form may be emailed to RAM@state.gov. Failure to submit information when requested, or failure to pass vetting, may be grounds for rejecting your proposal.

G. AWARD NOTICES

The award or cooperative agreement will be written, signed, awarded, and administered by the Grants Officer. The award agreement is the authorizing document, and it will be provided to the recipient for review and counter-signature. The recipient may only start incurring project expenses beginning on the start date shown on the award document signed by the Grants Officer.

If a proposal is selected for funding, the Department of State has no obligation to provide any additional future funding. Renewal of an award to increase funding or extend the period of performance is at the discretion of the Department of State.

Issuance of this NOFO does not constitute an award commitment on the part of the U.S. government, nor does it commit the U.S. government to pay for costs incurred in the preparation and submission of proposals. Further, the U.S. government reserves the right to reject any or all proposals received.

Payment Method:

Recipients will be required to request payments by completing form SF-270—Request for Advance or Reimbursement and submitting the form to the Grants Officer.

I. OTHER INFORMATION

Guidelines for Budget Justification

Personnel and Fringe Benefits: Describe the wages, salaries, and benefits of temporary or permanent staff who will be working directly for the applicant on the program, and the percentage of their time that will be spent on the program.

Travel: Estimate the costs of travel and per diem for this program, for program staff, consultants or speakers, and participants/beneficiaries. If the program involves international travel, include a brief statement of justification for that travel.

Equipment: Describe any machinery, furniture, or other personal property that is required for the program, which has a useful life of more than one year (or a life longer than the duration of the program), and costs at least $10,000 per unit.

Supplies: List and describe all the items and materials, including any computer devices, that are needed for the program. If an item costs more than $10,000 per unit, then put it in the budget under Equipment.

Contractual: Describe goods and services that the applicant plans to acquire through a contract with a vendor. Also describe any sub-awards to non-profit partners that will help carry out the program activities.

Other Direct Costs: Describe other costs directly associated with the program, which do not fit in the other categories. For example, shipping costs for materials and equipment or applicable taxes. All “Other” or “Miscellaneous” expenses must be itemized and explained.

Indirect Costs: These are costs that cannot be linked directly to the program activities, such as overhead costs needed to help keep the organization operating. If your organization has a Negotiated Indirect Cost Rate (NICRA) and includes NICRA charges in the budget, attach a copy of your latest NICRA. Organizations that have never had a NICRA may request indirect costs of 15% of Modified Total Direct Costs (MTDC) as defined in 2 CFR 200.1.

“Cost Sharing” refers to contributions from the organization or other entities other than the U.S. Embassy. It also includes in-kind contributions such as volunteers’ time and donated venues.

Alcoholic Beverages: Please note that award funds cannot be used for alcoholic beverages and other entertainment related expenses.
