Overview

The U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), Office of Justice Programs (OJP), Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) is seeking applications to provide supplemental funding to eligible entities providing assistance to victims of specific acts of criminal mass violence or terrorism. This program furthers the Department's mission and the Attorney General's priorities for reducing violent crime and providing vital services to crime victims. Violent crime can take a physical, psychological, emotional, and financial toll on victims and first responders, which requires effective and appropriate evidence-based responses.

This solicitation incorporates the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide by reference. The OJP Grant Application Resource Guide provides guidance to applicants to prepare and submit applications for funding. If this solicitation expressly modifies any provision in the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide, the applicant is to follow the guidelines in this solicitation as to that provision.

Solicitation Categories

This solicitation does not include Solicitation Categories.

Eligible Applicants:

This is not a competitive solicitation. OVC will contact potential applicants directly.

For Crime Victim Assistance, eligible applicants are limited to state victim assistance programs; public agencies, including federal, state, and local governments, and federally recognized Indian tribal governments, as determined by the Secretary of the Interior and published in the Federal Register; public institutions of higher education; and victim service and nongovernmental organizations.

For Crime Victim Compensation, eligible applicants are limited to state crime victim compensation administrative agencies.

This is a restricted invitation because the program is intended to respond to specific cases of terrorism and mass violence. Only after OVC has consulted with an eligible organization can an application be submitted. Further program guidance is set out in the AEAP Guidelines (available from OVC, or at in the Federal Register at 67 Fed. Reg. 4822 (Jan. 31, 2002) and 79 Fed. Reg. 59298 (Oct. 1, 2014)). (See

Program Description

Overview

OJP is committed to advancing work that promotes civil rights and racial equity, increases access to justice, supports crime victims and individuals impacted by the justice system, strengthens community safety and protects the public from crime and evolving threats, and builds trust between law enforcement and the community.

The Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) supports victims of mass violence and terrorism through the Antiterrorism and Emergency Assistance Program (AEAP). Funding for this program comes from the Antiterrorism Emergency Reserve (the Emergency Reserve). Along with non-grant training and technical assistance services, there are four types of grants that may be combined into one application: crisis response, consequence management, criminal justice support, and crime victim compensation.

AEAP grants are a mechanism by which the Director of OVC may award supplemental crime victim compensation and assistance to eligible entities responding to acts of mass criminal violence or domestic terrorism. The event must be sufficiently large that the jurisdiction cannot provide needed services to victims of the incident with existing resources, while also supporting victims of other crimes, in a timely and comprehensive manner.

AEAP funds may be used to provide emergency relief to benefit victims such as crisis response efforts, help victims adapt to and cope with the consequences of the event over the longer-term, and facilitate victim participation in the judicial process. AEAP can also supplement state crime victim compensation administrative agencies that reimburse victims for out-of-pocket expenses related to their victimization. Funding provided under this program is retroactive to the date of the incident. Justification for all funding must demonstrate that AEAP funds will support victims of the incident and are supplemental to existing resources. OVC may provide a no-cost consultant(s) to help the prospective grantee with the AEAP application process.

Statutory Authority: AEAP is authorized by 34 U.S.C. §§ 20101(d)(5) and 20105(b).

Specific Information

Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Victim Services Division (VSD) to determine which resources may already be deployed and which services are being coordinated with state and local victim assistance and law enforcement personnel on the scene. In the event that the FBI is investigating a federal crime or is asked to assist state, local, or tribal authorities with a non-federal crime, VSD can be a valuable resource to victims and affected agencies, especially in the initial aftermath of an incident. In such instances, VSD personnel can provide immediate victim assistance such as helping to collect ante-mortem data and to conduct death notifications; establishing or helping staff Family Assistance Centers; assisting with incident briefings for victims/families, individual needs assessments, and personal effects management; and providing support and information to victims through a national network of FBI Victim Specialists. When the FBI is investigating federal crimes or their assistance is requested by state, local, or tribal authorities, VSD may also support select short-term emergency victim-related expenses. This may include expenses associated with emergency transportation or temporary lodging for victims or their families. For more information on the FBI's victim services, visit: <https://www.fbi.gov/resources/victim-assistance>. State Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) personnel and other state and local victim assistance providers should work with appropriate federal, state, local, and tribal government agencies and nongovernmental and nonprofit agencies to address the full range of victims' needs.

Upon verification that an act of mass criminal violence or domestic terrorism has resulted in a significant number of victims who were killed or injured, or witnesses who were psychologically affected, OVC will contact the state VOCA administrator(s) in the affected state(s) and advise them that AEAP resources may be available. In order to determine the scope of possible need and resources available, this will be the first of many interactions between OVC and the agency eligible to receive AEAP funds.

Once OVC determines the appropriate eligible applicant, OVC will interact regularly with the applicant and inform the organization of the range of AEAP resources. OVC may also supply samples of approved AEAP application submissions to use as a guideline for developing a funding request. As victims' needs become more apparent and victim support expenses mount, OVC encourages the applicant to call or email OVC with questions about what AEAP funding can support.

AEAP Guidelines follow the definition of victim that is used under the VOCA program. However, because of the nature of mass violence and domestic terrorist incidents, AEAP may also include individuals who are likely to suffer vicarious trauma from the incident, for example, people in direct proximity to the crime and emergency responders who respond to the incident. (Note: Please see the definitions of a direct and indirect victims under "Statement of the Problem".)

There are four types of supplemental grants available under AEAP:

1. Crisis Response (emergency/short-term, up to 9 months): designed to provide resources to help victims rebuild adaptive capacities, decrease stressors, and to reduce symptoms of trauma immediately following the terrorism or mass violence event.
2. Consequence Management (ongoing/longer term, up to 18 months): designed to provide supplemental resources to help victims adapt to the trauma event and to restore victims' sense of equilibrium.
3. Criminal Justice Support (ongoing/longer term, up to 36 months): designed to facilitate victim participation in an investigation or prosecution directly related to the terrorist and mass violence event. (Please note the longer time frame here is generally intended to provide victim support in instances where there is a trial or other extended criminal proceeding.)
4. Crime Victim Compensation (available at any time): designed to provide supplemental funding to reimburse victims for out-of-pocket expenses related to their victimization in cases of terrorism or mass violence occurring within the United States.

Prospective grantees will identify victim-related expenses, including those associated with the immediate aftermath of the event; the longer term consequences for victims; and victim participation in investigations or prosecutions. OVC may require detailed justification for proposed expenses and will need to ensure that the requested funding is supplemental and does not supplant existing resources or duplicate funding from another source. The prospective grantee and OVC will collaborate to refine the application prior to the final application submission. The time needed to complete this process may vary depending on the complexity of the application. Historically, grants have taken between 6-18 months to develop although some may be submitted more quickly and others take longer.

OVC personnel will help prospective grantees throughout this process and will be available to address questions and concerns. In most instances, particularly for large and complex situations, OVC may also provide an expert mass violence consultant to assist the applicant with researching and gathering information, determining victim needs, identifying victim resources, developing response strategies, and drafting the AEAP proposal. OVC understands that states or communities may not have the expertise or resources to develop an AEAP grant and this is where an OVC-provided consultant can provide valuable assistance. There is no cost to the prospective grantee for the consultant. OVC will also work with prospective grantees to ensure that they have coordinated their response with other agencies that may be able to provide support. For example, OJP's Bureau of Justice Assistance may have funding available for law enforcement activities associated with the event that are not victim-related (see Justice Assistance Grant information at www.bja.gov/ProgramDetails.aspx?Program_ID=59). DOJ Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) grants also may be available (www.cops.usdoj.gov/Default.asp?Item=232). Additionally, under limited circumstances, the U.S. Department of Education may have funding available to help local educational agencies and institutions of higher education recover from a violent or traumatic event (see "Project School Emergency Response to Violence" at www2.ed.gov/programs/dvppserv/index.html).

VOCA state administrating agencies (SAAs) that support the victim response efforts after a mass violence event and anticipate applying for an OVC AEAP grant to supplement their existing crime victim assistance and compensation efforts should be careful to ensure that they follow established OVC policies, the Victim Assistance Final Rule, the Victim Compensation Guidelines, the Department of Justice \(DOJ\) Grants Financial Guide, and proper accounting principles. Since AEAP grants are retroactive to the date of the event and there will be a gap in time between when the event occurred and the AEAP grant is awarded, it is vital that VOCA SAAs and potential subrecipients carefully track all federal and state funds used to support victims of a mass violence event prior to the date of the AEAP award. Because victims often need immediate support, VOCA SAAs and potential subrecipients may use unobligated crime victim assistance or compensation formula funds as an interim solution to assist these victims. Regardless of how the mass violence victim services are funded before an AEAP award is made, proper accounting practices should be employed and expenses should be clearly tracked to ensure that the VOCA SAAs or subrecipients do not duplicate reimbursements for mass violence-related costs.

The following information provides examples of the types of support that are available under AEAP grants. This is not an exhaustive list; other items will be considered if the applicant can demonstrate that expenditures support victim assistance or compensation and that such expenses are supplemental and not provided through other funding. It is expected that state VOCA programs will examine their existing resources to determine whether they can support an incident without significantly adversely affecting victims of other crimes. If they lack sufficient resources, then AEAP funding will be considered. Since AEAP covers expenses retroactive to the date of the incident, it is assumed that organizations requesting retroactive supplemental costs will need to fund those expenses up front and, if approved, they will be reimbursed under the AEAP award.

Examples of supplemental VOCA compensation items typically covered under AEAP include (*see Compensation Note on page 8):

- Compensation for autopsy, refrigeration, and transport of a body; funeral and burial costs; etc.
- Compensation for medical costs and medical-related expenses, including vocational rehabilitation, non-medical attendant services, rehabilitation and physical therapy, diagnostic examinations, prosthetic devices, eyeglasses, medical/dental/vision health insurance copayments, etc.
- Compensation for mental health costs, including crisis counseling, group therapy, etc., and insurance copayments supporting these type services.
- Emergency travel and/or transportation costs.
- Lost wages.

Note: Compensation funds may NOT be used to cover property damage or loss. Property damage is damage to material goods (not including medical-related devices) or the physical loss of money, stocks, bonds, etc. Additionally, compensation is intended for individuals, not businesses or organizations.

Examples of supplemental VOCA assistance services typically covered under AEAP include:

- Victim advocacy efforts including applying for compensation.
- Counseling and group therapy (providers should be licensed and accredited according to state standards and delivering evidence-based or widely accepted therapeutic services).
- Rehabilitation expenses.
- Vocational rehabilitation.
- Emergency food, clothing, housing, transportation, and travel.
- Temporary housing, per diem, and relocation.
- Child and dependent care.
- Cleaning and return of personal effects.
- Employer and creditor intervention.
- Automated informational telephone services.
- Outreach, awareness, and education.
- Case management and navigator services.
- Victim informational websites, including victim notification systems.
- Support for victim participation in investigations and criminal justice proceedings such as travel/transportation to court or closed-circuit viewing facility, counseling, advocacy, victim impact statements, etc.
- Other criminal justice support such as assistance with victim impact statements; attorney advisor and victim advocate personnel costs; case briefings by investigators; criminal justice notification, information, and referral; outreach, awareness, and education, etc.
- On a case-by-case basis, the OVC Director may approve limited funding to be used for administrative purposes (such as staff and some equipment) deemed essential to the delivery of services and assistance to victims.
- Support for trauma suffered by first responders.

Very limited victim service-related law enforcement and first responder overtime expenses, such as death notifications; showing/explaining the crime scene to the family; law enforcement-based victim advocates; crime scene cleanup; and additional security at a memorial service or funeral when there is an ongoing threat. (Please note that AEAP CANNOT cover routine law enforcement or first responder expenses and that any requests for funding must be related to victim activities. Interviewing victims and witnesses about the incident is NOT considered a victim service.)

- Limited expenses for coroners' or medical examiners' offices for a larger-than-normal number of deceased victims. Costs for additional supplies and overtime may be considered if the office is overwhelmed. Salaries of current staff will not be reimbursed. It is assumed that the coroner or medical examiner will be able to support some amount of these expenses. For example, if responding to multiple vehicle fatalities is normal for the office, then some costs above that norm will be considered. The type and amount will depend on the size of the incident and office (major city versus rural area). Costs will NOT be considered for expenses related to a suspect/perpetrator.

The following is generally covered under OVC-provided training and technical assistance:

- Training and technical assistance (TTA) is principally available to help federal, state, and local authorities identify victim needs and needed resources, to coordinate services to victims, develop short- and longer-term strategies for responding, and other related purposes as determined by OVC. TTA may include conducting limited needs assessments and planning, defining the mental health needs of victims, identifying strategies for integrating victim assistance in the incident command structure, improving coordination and collaboration among responding agencies, linking mental health services with victim assistance services, and working cooperatively in a multi-disciplinary environment.

If a state VOCA agency is applying for both compensation and assistance resources, the request should be combined into one application, if practical. It is possible to file a supplemental application if circumstances are such that it is not possible to combine all items in the initial request or if there is an unforeseen ongoing need.

*Note to state VOCA compensation programs applying for supplemental crime victim compensation: AEAP may provide state crime victim compensation agencies supplemental funding to reimburse victims for out-of-pocket expenses related to their victimization in cases of mass criminal violence or domestic terrorism occurring within the United States. AEAP funds may not be used to cover property damage or loss and the funding is not intended to exceed existing compensation program limits; however, OVC may award state compensation programs supplemental funding to cover extra expenses related to the incident. Under a 2014 clarification to the AEAP Guidelines, OVC may provide funding to the state program, public agencies, or other organizations to cover expenses not ordinarily covered (whether in amount or type) by state crime victim compensation programs. Due to the nature of mass violence incidents, victims (in addition to being more numerous) may also have compensation needs that are more extensive or somewhat different than what the state program would ordinarily cover, such as compensation to emergency responders or victims who were in the immediate proximity of the crime when it occurred or, in the aftermath of a bombing where many victims lose limbs, there may be an increased need for rehabilitative services that extend beyond what a state compensation program typically provides. Caregivers for seriously injured victims may also incur expenses not typically covered under state crime victim compensation programs such as lost wages and travel expenses when providing care for or taking victims to medical appointments. OVC will coordinate such awards with state crime victim compensation programs in the event that such an award is made to another organization. (See <https://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/FR-2014-10-01/pdf/2014-23343.pdf> for the amendment to the AEAP Guidelines.)

Examples of mental health interventions that may be funded or denied funding under AEAP grants:

To the greatest extent possible, proposed mental health interventions should be evidence-based treatments/empirically supported treatments (EBTs and ESTs) or evidence-based practices (EBPs). (Please refer to the OVC-funded National Mass Violence Victimization Resource Center (NMVVR) at the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC) for an explanation of these terms and examples of them in the "What are Evidence-Based Treatments and Evidence-Based Practices?" Tip Sheet: : https://www.nmvvr.org/TipSheets/Ev%20Based%20treatments%20and%20practices_07-12-19%20FINAL.pdf.) In general, some empirically supported treatments include Cognitive Processing therapy (CPT), Complicated Grief Treatment (CGT), Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR), Prolonged Exposure (PE), and Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT). Evidence-based practices may include Grief and Trauma Intervention (GTI) for Children, Psychological First Aid (PFA), Skills for Psychological Recovery (SPR) and others. There may be instances, for example, where a local Resiliency Center established following a mass violence incident will provide activities such as trauma-informed yoga, trauma music therapy, etc. These may be appropriate to draw victims into the Resiliency Center and increase their awareness of various services or as a way to provide low-level interventions for victims who need limited support. However, these types of programs are not intended to be used extensively or as stand-alone treatments for most victims. The Substance Abuse and Mental Services Administration (SAMHSA) indicates that Trauma Center Trauma-Sensitive Yoga is an empirically validated adjunctive clinical treatment for complex trauma or chronic treatment-resistant PTSD (<https://www.samhsa.gov/wellness-initiative/calendar/trauma-center-trauma-sensitive-yoga>).

OVC reserves the right to decline funding for proposed treatments if they are not evidence-based treatments, empirically supported treatments, or evidence-based practices. The applicant should work with OVC to provide information for OVC to make a determination whether requested interventions will be funded under the AEAP grant. At this time, OVC will NOT fund activities such as Equine-Assisted therapy or Trauma Reiki even though some states may fund these activities under their state VOCA programs. Aside from the samples provided on the referenced NMVVRRC “What are Evidence-Based Treatments and Evidence-Based Practices?” Tip Sheet, the applicant can expect OVC to carefully review proposed interventions and all funded interventions must be provided by licensed/accredited personnel.

Allowable expenses are based, in part, on activities authorized in guidelines established for OVC's Antiterrorism Emergency Reserve and in the Federal VOCA Victim Assistance Grant Program Guidelines. In addition, when developing these categories of available services and assistance, OVC relied on the requirements in the Attorney General Guidelines for Victim and Witness Assistance that deal specifically with the provision of services for victims of terrorism and other mass casualties.

Victim services identified in this section are intended to complement services that are available from other agencies and organizations. For instance, an applicant would not be precluded from receiving AEAP funding merely because it received funding from a private charitable organization or another federal agency, such as the Federal Emergency Management Agency; however, the applicant would be required to demonstrate how AEAP funding would complement and enhance (not duplicate) the ability to meet an unmet need.

Funding under this program is best administered by one agency working in conjunction with other organizations and victim assistance providers. In most instances, OVC will award one grant with the grantee assuming overall responsibility for coordination of grant activities with subgrantees and/or contractors. With sufficient justification, OVC may entertain more than one application and may award funding to multiple applicants for different types of assistance. If multiple applicants receive grants under AEAP, they are expected to coordinate their activities. OVC also works closely with applicants to ensure the most appropriate use of resources from all affected entities. Applicants should identify other public and private entities that were consulted in the process of preparing the application, and describe how the proposed services fit within the overall plan for addressing victims' needs. OVC will consider the level of coordination and the availability of resources from other federal, state, local, and tribal agencies and private entities when making funding determinations. Extensive coordination with agencies (e.g., state emergency preparedness organizations, state mental health providers, and local chapters of the American Red Cross and the United Way) and among federal and state law enforcement and prosecution personnel is a necessary component of an effective response to terrorism and mass violence and a criterion upon which OVC will base its funding decision. OVC does not provide AEAP funding directly to individual crime victims.

Goals, Objectives, Deliverables, and Timeline

Goals

While the overall goal of AEAP is to support criminal mass violence and terrorism victims, individual grant goals, objectives, and deliverables will vary by incident as each event is unique and resources may differ in each jurisdiction. Support for victims under AEAP is accomplished by providing supplemental crime victim assistance and compensation to support these victims, including first responders who are adversely impacted by these events.

Objectives

The overall objective is to increase access to programs designed to improve services, assistance (including victim compensation), and outcomes for victims of mass violence and terrorism.

How AEAP funding serves these victims varies depending on the nature of the incident. For example, funding may support direct victim services such as individual/group counseling or vocational/rehabilitation expenses. In other instances, AEAP funding supports victim advocacy efforts; case management and victim navigation services; Resiliency Center activities and websites; TTA for various activities including training for mental health practitioners; outreach and awareness; etc.

Deliverables

Deliverables vary by incident and depend on what the AEAP grant activities are supporting.

Deliverables including completing the AEAP PMT questionnaire as well as semi-annual progress reports addressing the following items:

- Description of Services Provided;
- Description of Plans for Addressing Longer-term and Unmet Needs;
- and the Evaluation/Assessment of the Effectiveness of the Response.
- A Final Report is also required.

The Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables are directly related to the performance measures that show the completed work's results, as discussed in the Content of Application Submission section.

Evidence-Based Programs or Practices

OJP strongly encourages the use of data and evidence in policymaking and program development for criminal justice, juvenile justice, and crime victim services. For additional information and resources on evidence-based programs or practices, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities

OJP may conduct or support an evaluation of the programs and activities funded under this solicitation. For additional information, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide section entitled "Information Regarding Potential Evaluation of Programs and Activities."

Types of Awards

OVC expects to make awards under this solicitation as grants. See the “Administrative, National Policy, and Other Legal Requirements” section of the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for a brief discussion of important statutes, regulations, and award conditions that apply to many (or in some cases, all) OJP grants.

Financial Management and System of Internal Controls

Award recipients and subrecipients (including recipients or subrecipients that are pass-through entities) must, as described in the Part 200 Uniform Requirements as set out at 2 C.F.R. 200.303, comply with standards for financial and program management. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information.

Budget Information

AEAP funding is supplemental and cannot supplant existing resources. As such, funding cannot be used for costs such as existing staffing and facilities; however, AEAP funding may be used to hire additional staff—either to work on the mass violence or domestic terrorism incident or backfill an existing employee who is supporting the victims of a mass violence or domestic terrorism incident on an ongoing basis. AEAP funds may also pay overtime costs for staff or secure additional office space and supplies if it can be demonstrated that existing resources cannot sufficiently support the needs of these victims while adequately supporting victims of other crimes. All funding requests must be tied to the incident and be victim-related. AEAP funding cannot be used to pay for property damage or loss. Additionally, AEAP funds cannot be used for routine police or first responder activities but may be used to support overtime for victim service activities such as death notifications; showing/explaining the crime scene to the family; law enforcement-based victim advocates; possibly some crime scene cleanup; and additional security at a memorial service or funeral when there is an ongoing threat.

Eligibility Information

For additional eligibility information, see the title page.

OVC does not provide Antiterrorism Emergency Assistance Program (AEAP) funding directly to individual crime victims. AEAP applications will be accepted only from the jurisdiction where the crime occurred, unless a federal statute establishes a special authorization and appropriation supporting allocations to other jurisdictions or a compelling justification can be provided to the OVC Director supporting requests from other jurisdictions. In the case of terrorism and mass violence outside the United States, OVC will make a determination regarding which organizations or agencies within the United States may apply for funding.

OVC will consider applications under which two or more entities would carry out the federal award; however, only one entity may be the applicant. Any others must be proposed as subrecipients (subgrantees). For additional information on subawards, see the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide.

OVC may elect to fund applications submitted under this FY 2022 solicitation in future fiscal years, dependent on, among other considerations, the merit of the applications and the availability of appropriations.

To advance Executive Order 13929 Safe Policing for Safe Communities, the Attorney General determined that all state, local, and university or college law enforcement agencies must be certified by an approved independent credentialing body or have started the certification process, to be eligible for FY 2022 DOJ discretionary grant funding. To become certified, the law enforcement agency must meet two mandatory conditions: (1) the agency's use-of-force policies adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws and (2) the agency's use-of-force policies prohibit chokeholds except in situations where use of deadly force is allowed by law. The certification requirement also applies to law enforcement agencies receiving DOJ discretionary grant funding through a subaward. For detailed information on this certification requirement, please visit <https://cops.usdoj.gov/SafePolicingEO> to access the Standards for Certification on Safe Policing for Safe Communities, the Implementation Fact Sheet, and the List of Designated Independent Credentialing Bodies.

All recipients and subrecipients (including any for-profit organization) must forgo any profit or management fee.

For information on cost sharing or matching requirements, see Federal Award Information.

Application and Submission Information

See the "Application Elements and Formatting Instructions" section of the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for information on what happens to an application that does not contain all the specified elements or is nonresponsive to the scope of the solicitation.

The SF-424 must be submitted in Grants.gov. It is a required standard form used as a cover sheet for submission of pre-applications, applications, and related information. See the OJP Grant Application Resource Guide for additional information on completing the SF-424.

In Section 8F of the SF-424, please include the name and contact information of the individual who will complete the application in JustGrants. JustGrants will use this information (email address) to assign the application to this user in JustGrants.

Intergovernmental Review: This solicitation ("funding opportunity") is not subject to Executive Order 12372. (In completing the SF-424, an applicant is to answer question 19 by selecting the response that the "Program is not covered by E.O. 12372.")

Standard Applicant Information (JustGrants 424 and General Agency Information)

The Standard Applicant Information section of the JustGrants application is pre-populated with the SF-424 data submitted in Grants.gov. The applicant will need to review the Standard Applicant Information in JustGrants and make edits as needed. Within this section, the applicant will need to add: zip codes for areas affected by the project; confirm its Authorized Representative; and verify and confirm the organization's unique entity identifier, legal name, and address.

Proposal Abstract

A proposal abstract (no more than 400 words) summarizing the proposed project, including the purpose of the project, primary activities, expected outcomes, the service area, intended beneficiaries and subrecipients (if known), will be completed in the JustGrants web-based form. This abstract should be written in the third person and will be made publicly available on the OJP website if the project is awarded.

Proposal Narrative

The proposal narrative should be submitted as an attachment in JustGrants. The attached document should be single-spaced, using a standard 11-point Times New Roman font and have no less than 1-inch margins. Pages should be numbered and submitted as an attachment. If the program narrative fails to comply with these restrictions, OVC may negatively consider such noncompliance in final award decisions.

The following sections must be included as part of the proposal narrative:

a. Statement of the Problem including -

1. Type of crime and brief description of the criminal event, including where the incident occurred, and the impact of the crime.
2. Identification of the lead law enforcement agency conducting the investigation and the lead prosecutor, if applicable.
3. The actual or estimated number of direct and indirect victims affected by the crime, and, if applicable, detail the victims' needs.
4. Description of the applicant's role in responding to the victims since the date of the incident.
5. Description of victims' needs and how these needs were identified, including challenges or gaps in serving the victims (if any) and existing resources that supported victims of this incident.
6. Description of services that this funding will support, how this funding will assist or impact victims, and how these efforts will complement services already in place or respond to an unmet need of this incident.
7. Description of state VOCA Assistance or Compensation services provided to support these victims.
8. The amount of funding requested and the timeframe for support.
9. A description of outreach and coordination with other public and private entities during the process of preparing the grant to ensure a comprehensive approach to supporting victims and preclude possibly duplicative services.

(Note: The AEAP Guidelines state that because of the nature of terrorist incidents, victims include individuals who are likely to suffer traumatic effects of the incident, for example, people in direct proximity to the crime and emergency responders. Under AEAP grants, OVC defines direct victims to be individuals who were killed or injured, witnesses or individuals who were in direct proximity to the crime, and first responders who responded to the incident. Indirect victims are generally family (or those bound by a familial-type relationship) of direct victims and law enforcement personnel, first responders, and/or others who interacted in a meaningful way with the direct victims. Generally, except for those direct and indirect victims described above, individuals who were not within sight of the event, not in the same building, or those in the larger community are not considered victims for purposes of AEAP.)

If requesting supplemental crime victim compensation funds, address the following:

1. The projected number of compensation claims to be paid and the projected number of claimants to receive payments;
2. The state's maximum award amount by category, such as medical, mental health services, lost wages, and funeral expenses; and
3. A description of the range of expenses covered by the program and the amount of state funding available to cover victim claims.

b. Project Design and Implementation

The applicant should note the supportive activities provided by the state or other entities that will not be reimbursed under the AEAP grant. For example, identify what crime victim assistance or compensation has been provided for victims. The applicant should list the proposed supplemental program activities and describe how they relate to supporting victims of the incident. Activities are the specific actions to be undertaken to fulfill the program objectives and reach the program goal(s). Provide a detailed description of the method(s) to be used to carry out each activity. Provide a timetable indicating roughly when activities or program milestones are to be accomplished

c. Capabilities and Competencies

Describe the capabilities and competencies to accomplish the goals and objectives of the project.

d. Plan for Collecting the Data Required for this Solicitation's Performance Measures

Describe the process for measuring project performance. Identify who will collect the data, including whether subrecipients will be collecting data; who is responsible for performance measurements; and how the information will be used to guide and evaluate the impact of the project. Describe the process to accurately report data.

Note: applicants are not required to submit performance data with the application. Rather, performance measures information is included as an alert that successful applicants will be required to submit performance data as part of the reporting requirements under an award.

OJP will require each successful applicant to submit regular performance data that demonstrate the results of the work carried out under the award. The performance data directly relate to the goals, objectives, and deliverables identified under "Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables."

Applicants can also visit OJP's performance measurement page at www.ojp.gov/performance for an overview of performance measurement activities at OJP.

For Victim Assistance:

- Victim Assistance – Subgrant Award Report \(SAR\)
- Victim Assistance – Subgrantee Performance Measures Report
- Victim Assistance – Grantee Report

For Victim Compensation:

- Applicants should examine the list of Victim Compensation performance measures at http://ovcpmt.ojp.gov/documents/OVC%20Victim%20Compensation%20Measures_508.pdf.

Award recipients will be required to submit performance measure data using the AEAP PMT fillable PDF and separately submit semi-annual progress reports and a final report in JustGrants. Reports should include the AEAP grant number and the date of the report (e.g., July 1, 20XX through December 31, 20XX). This report should supplement statistics provided under the fillable AEAP PMT form. The semiannual progress report may be broken down by subrecipient under each bullet or the information may reflect the combined efforts of the subrecipients and should include:

- Description of services provided
 - Provide a narrative summation of the activities and efforts supported by AEAP funds including a description of coordination efforts among agencies, any intra- or inter-agency protocols, new services and programs established, and other large-scale activities funded under the grant.
- Description of plans for addressing longer-term and unmet needs
 - Grantees should describe any ongoing needs of the victims, any unmet needs, and resources available or needed to support services once AEAP funds are exhausted.
- Evaluation/assessment of the effectiveness of the response

Grantees should describe findings of any assessment of the victim service strategy, victim satisfaction with the services rendered, and lessons learned. You must address the impact on victims who received services (e.g., how victims benefited from the services made available via this funding), and provide anecdotal information such as feedback received from victims, etc.

Note: The applicant is not required to submit performance data with the application. Rather, performance measure information is included as an alert that each successful applicant will be required to submit performance data as part of each award's reporting requirements.

OJP will require each successful applicant to submit regular performance data that show the completed work's results. The performance data directly relate to the goals, objectives, and deliverables identified in the "Goals, Objectives, and Deliverables" discussion. The applicant can also visit OJP's performance measurement page at www.ojp.gov/performance for an overview of performance measurement activities at OJP.

The full application must be submitted in JustGrants by 8:59 P.M. on April 22, 2022.

OJP urges applicants to submit their Grants.gov and JustGrants submissions prior to the due dates to allow sufficient time to correct errors and resubmit by the submission deadlines if a rejection notification is received. To be considered timely, the full application must be submitted in JustGrants by the JustGrants application deadline.

Experiencing Unforeseen Technical Issues

An applicant that experiences unforeseen SAM.gov, Grants.gov, or JustGrants technical issues beyond its control that prevent application submission by the deadline, must demonstrate all efforts in requesting technical support in order to submit an application by the deadline. Technical support is available via phone and email to the applicable SAM.gov, Grants.gov, or JustGrants support centers or service desks in which an applicant received a ticket number for resolution. If an applicant misses a deadline due to unforeseen technical difficulties, the applicant may request a waiver to submit an application after the deadline. Note: If an applicant does not submit all the required Grants.gov forms by the Grants.gov deadline, the applicant will not be able to proceed to the JustGrants portion of the application process.

An applicant experiencing technical difficulties with the following systems must contact the associated support desk indicated below to report the technical issue and receive a tracking number:

An applicant requesting a waiver to submit a late application must document their request for technical assistance in an email to the OJP Response Center at grants@ncjrs.gov within 24 hours after the application deadline to request approval to submit its application after the deadline. If an applicant has technical issues with Grants.gov, the applicant must contact OJP Response Center within 24 hours of the Grants.gov deadline to request approval to submit after the deadline. However, waiver requests will not be reviewed until after the JustGrants deadline to allow time for all waivers to be submitted. Waiver requests to submit after the submission deadline must:

Important note on FAPIIS: An applicant, at its option, may review and comment on any information about itself that currently appears in FAPIIS and was entered by a federal awarding agency.
