Basic information

Administration for Children and Families (ACF)

Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR)

Unaccompanied Alien Children Bureau (UACB)

Preparing unaccompanied alien children for reunification and community integration through trauma-informed services and resources.

Summary

The purpose of this funding is to support unaccompanied alien children through the two critical phases of home study (HS) and post-release services (PRS) for statutorily required and discretionary cases to help ensure child safety, well-being, and stability. HS/PRS providers will help children navigate family reunification challenges, trauma recovery, and integration into their new communities. The HS/PRS program is for organizations that can assess and evaluate potential sponsors' ability to ensure child safety and well-being and promote these outcomes after children are released from Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) custody to sponsors in the United States.

Organizations will:

- Conduct thorough HS evaluations of potential sponsor homes, including in-person interviews, home visits, and comprehensive safety assessments.
- Deliver three levels of post-release services:
 - Virtual check-ins for basic safety monitoring.
 - Case management services for ongoing support and community connections.
 - Intensive engagements for families who require specialized interventions.
- Build protective factors that support successful community integration while addressing barriers to accessing essential services in both urban and remote locations.

These services are to be provided in a manner that is sensitive to each unaccompanied alien child's individual needs and in a way they can understand, regardless of spoken language, reading comprehension, or disability, to ensure meaningful access for all eligible children, including those with limited English proficiency.

Program description

Program goals and objectives

ORR in ACF provides temporary residential care to unaccompanied alien children (referred to as child or children). An Unaccompanied Alien Child (UAC) is defined by law (6 U.S.C. 279\(g\)\(2\)) as a child who:

- Has no lawful immigration status in the United States.
- Has not attained 18 years of age.
- Has no parent or legal guardian in the United States or no parent or legal guardian in the United States available to provide care and physical custody.

Following the William Wilberforce Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act of 2008, ORR conducts home studies for certain UAC before releasing them from custody. ORR also offers PRS for all children who receive an HS and for others who might need ongoing help from social welfare agencies after their release.

The Home Study and Post-Release Services Program (HS/PRS) addresses critical needs in the continuum of care by conducting thorough assessments of potential placement homes and providing essential support services after children are released to sponsors.

- HS services ensure that UAC are released to safe, appropriate homes where their physical safety, mental health, and overall well-being can be protected.
- PRS are voluntary services that provide ongoing support to ensure successful family reunification and community integration while children navigate immigration proceedings.

The program conducts in-depth assessments of potential sponsors' ability to provide safe, appropriate care and provides ongoing support services to facilitate successful community integration and family stabilization. The HS/PRS program requires consistent support across all areas of the United States, including high-need and remote locations.

This funding opportunity addresses Agency Priorities 1 through 5.

Program design and service delivery

Home study (HS)

An HS includes:

- An investigation of the living conditions in which the UAC would be placed if released to a particular potential sponsor.
- The standard of care that the UAC would receive.
- Interviews with the potential sponsor and other household members.

In cases where neither law nor policy require an HS, ORR may still allow one if it believes one would be helpful.

Types of home studies

Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act (TVPRA) mandatory home study

An HS is required by the TVPRA (8 U.S.C. 1232\(c\)\(3\)\(B\)) when the child:

- Is a victim of a severe form of human trafficking.
- Has a disability as defined by Americans with Disabilities Act (42 U.S.C. 12102) and requires individual services or treatment.
- Has been a victim of physical or sexual abuse under circumstances indicating that their health or welfare has been significantly harmed or threatened.
- Has a sponsor who clearly presents risk of abuse, maltreatment, exploitation, or trafficking based on all available objective evidence.

ORR-mandated home study

Foundational rule 45 CFR § 410.1204\(b\)\(2\)-\(3\) mandated home study is required before:

- Releasing any child to a non-relative sponsor who is seeking to sponsor multiple children at the same time, or who has previously sponsored or sought to sponsor a child and is seeking to sponsor additional children.
- Releasing any child who is 12 years old or younger to a non-relative sponsor.

Other ORR-mandated home study is required by ORR UACB Policy Guide, Section 2.4.2 when:

- The potential sponsor has previously sponsored multiple children and is now seeking to sponsor additional children (regardless of whether they are related to the previous or current children).

- The potential sponsor claims a biological relationship with the child but refuses to submit to a DNA test in accordance with applicable ORR guidance.
- The potential sponsor, parent, or legal guardian is unable to provide supporting documentation as required under ORR policy and seeks a waiver or exception (see Section 2.2.4 Required Documents for Submission with the Application for Release).
- The potential sponsor (parent or immediate relative) is not biologically related to the child. See Section 2.2.1 Identification of Qualified Sponsors.
- The potential sponsor (distant relative or not related) is seeking to sponsor a child. See Section 2.2.1 Identification of Qualified Sponsors.

Discretionary home studies

In cases where an HS is not required by TVPRA, regulations, or ORR policy, ORR may recommend a discretionary HS if it would provide additional information to assess the sponsor's ability to care for the child's health, safety, and well-being.

Home study components

The HS looks at whether the sponsor can meet the child's needs. It also educates the sponsor about what to expect and builds on information already gathered during the child's time in ORR custody. Each HS must include the following:

Interviews

- Face-to-face interviews with potential sponsors.
- Interviews with adult household members.
- Assessment of family dynamics and relationships.
- Evaluation of sponsor's understanding of the child's needs.

Home visit

- In-person visit to the sponsor's residence.
- Assessment of physical living conditions.
- Evaluation of sleeping arrangements and privacy.
- Safety assessment of the home environment.
- Verification of adequate space and resources.

Written report

- Comprehensive assessment using ORR template.
- Analysis of the sponsor's capacity to meet the child's needs.
- Documentation of any concerns or risk factors.

- Positive or negative recommendation regarding release.
- Identification of any support services needed.

Home study requirements and procedures

When ORR refers a case for an HS, the HS provider must:

- Accept HS referrals within 3 calendar days of ORR referral.
- Contact referring care provider within 24 hours of referral acceptance.
- Contact potential sponsor within 48 hours of referral acceptance to schedule home visit.
- Submit final written report within 10 business days of referral acceptance.
- Submit report using ORR-approved template and include all required components.
- Submit requests to extend beyond 10 business days or to cancel an HS to ORR for consideration and approval.

Home studies are generally valid for 1 year once finalized. If new information that raises child welfare concerns emerges, ORR may request an HS addendum or a new HS.

Post-release services

After a UAC is released to a sponsor, they may need ongoing support to ensure their safety and well-being. PRS is a voluntary service that helps children and sponsors adjust to their new living situation. Every child released from ORR custody is evaluated to determine the level of service they need. PRS is offered at three different levels of support based on each child's specific needs. These comprehensive post-release services help ensure that UAC remain safe, have their basic needs met, and successfully integrate into their new communities after leaving ORR custody. Service providers must be prepared to deliver all three levels of support to respond flexibly to children's changing needs.

How children are assigned to service levels

ORR will refer all children for the appropriate level based on their individual situation.

- Children who legally must receive services under the TVPRA automatically get either Level 2 or Level 3 services.
- If there's a waiting list for Level 2 or Level 3 services, children will receive Level 1 virtual check-ins until more intensive services become available.

A child's service level can change over time based on their evolving needs. Some children might start with more intensive support and gradually need less, while others might need more support if new challenges arise.

Post-release service levels

Level 1: Virtual check-ins

Level 1 services provide basic support through phone calls, video chats, or other remote communication. These virtual check-ins are less intensive but allow case workers to stay connected with more families. They're also used temporarily for children waiting for more intensive services. During these check-ins, case workers:

- Make sure the child is safe, and their basic needs are being met.
- Answer questions the sponsor might have about caring for the child.
- Connect the family with local resources like schools, health care, and community services.
- Help solve simple problems before they become bigger issues.
- Check if the child needs more intensive support.

Level 2: Case management services

Level 2 services provide more hands-on support through a combination of in-person visits and remote check-ins. Most children who receive an HS before release will start with at least Level 2 services to ensure a smooth transition. Case managers working at this level:

- Visit the home regularly to assess the child's adjustment and safety.
- Help sponsors navigate school enrollment and educational support.
- Assist with medical and mental health appointments.
- Connect families with legal services for immigration proceedings.
- Provide guidance on accessing community resources.
- Help resolve conflicts between children and sponsors.
- Create and follow a service plan tailored to each child's needs.
- Advocate for the child with various service systems.

Level 3: Intensive in-home engagements

Level 3 provides the most comprehensive support for children with complex needs or who are in challenging situations. Children who have faced trafficking, severe abuse, or have significant special needs typically receive this level of support. This level includes:

- Frequent home visits (often weekly).
- Specialized support for children with trauma, disabilities, or serious medical conditions.
- Crisis intervention when needed.
- Intensive family counseling and conflict resolution.

- Coordination with multiple service providers.
- Hands-on assistance with appointments and services.
- Specialized safety planning and monitoring.
- More extensive support for sponsors who need additional guidance.

Level 2 and 3 core service areas

- Legal services.
- Immigration, juvenile justice, and guardianship.
- Education and English language classes.
- Health services.
- Medical and behavioral health care.
- Youth programming.
- Mentoring, tutoring, after-school care, and sports.
- Interpretation services.
- Placement stability and safety services.
- Guardianship proceeding support.
- Immigration proceeding support.
- Employment support (age-appropriate).
- Substance use disorder prevention and treatment.
- Gang prevention services.
- Services for children requiring special consideration.
- Integration and independence support.
- Family stabilization or counseling.

Post-release services case management approach

PRS providers must use case management to keep children safe and help them adjust to their new homes. Providers must help to meet the needs of the UAC and their sponsor after the child leaves ORR care.

This process includes:

- Assessments: Continually evaluate child and sponsor needs.
- Planning: Developing strength-based case management plans.
- Facilitation: Coordinating services and support.
- Care coordination: Linking children and sponsors to community resources.
- Evaluation: Continuously monitoring outcomes and adjustment to services.
- Advocacy: Supporting children's and sponsor's access to necessary services.

For all post-release service levels, providers must:

- Conduct required contacts with the child and sponsor, both individually and together.
- Adjust services based on changing needs.
- Continue PRS if the child moves to a new home.
- Report concerns to ORR.

Case ratios

At minimum,

- HS case workers must have a caseload of 3.
- PRS Level 1 must have a caseload of 25.
- PRS Level 2 must have a caseload of 15.
- PRS Level 3 must have a caseload of 5.

Core principles

ORR requires that PRS be provided in a manner that is responsive to each UAC's needs and in a way the child can understand regardless of language, reading ability, or disability, to ensure meaningful access for all eligible children. These approaches must:

- Be evidence- and research-based.
- Respect and work within the child's culture.
- Be provided in the language the child understands best.
- Consider the unique needs of each child.
- Recognize and address trauma the child has experienced.

A trauma-informed approach means case managers understand that many UAC's have experienced difficult events. These case managers:

- Create a safe environment where children feel comfortable.
- Avoid actions that might remind children of past trauma.
- Recognize signs of stress or emotional struggles.
- Help children and sponsors learn healthy ways to cope with difficult feelings.
- Build on the strengths the child and family already have.

Assessments

All assessments must address:

- Sponsor family functioning.
- Needs for legal services.
- Education needs and school engagement.
- Access to medical care and health status.
- Behavioral health care needs, such as mental health, substance use, and overall well-being.
- Support for personal belief systems.
- Healthy relationships and social connections.
- Food and material goods security.
- Transportation access.
- Housing stability.
- Special circumstances or individual needs.

Virtual visit exception

Case managers or clinicians may request case-by-case approval from ORR to conduct engagement virtually in exceptional circumstances, where doing so would be in the best interests of the child.

Service provision for special populations

Some children need extra care and specialized services. PRS providers must give special attention to:

- Children with individual needs for specific services and treatment.
- Children with disabilities.
- Children involved in the juvenile justice system and those at high risk of involvement.
- Children who entered ORR care after the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) separated them from their parents or legal guardian.

- Children granted parole, such as humanitarian parole, who have lawful presence but not lawful immigration status.
- Children enrolled in school who are chronically absent or retained at the end of the school year.

Notification of Concern (NOC)

A NOC is used to document and notify ORR of certain concerns that arise after a child is released from ORR care and custody (for example, concerns about the released UAC's safety and well-being).

PRS providers must submit a NOC to ORR when:

- The released child is at risk of harm.

Cooperative agreement—description of ACF's involvement

When funding is awarded in a cooperative agreement, you can expect substantial involvement from federal staff. In this cooperative agreement, our responsibilities include:

- Helping design, implement, and continuously modify program activities and service delivery frameworks.
- Approving standardized operational protocols and procedural guidelines.
- Approving key program staff.
- Delivering comprehensive training programs and technical assistance to enhance staff competencies.
- Providing expert consultation and guidance on individual case management strategies and interventions.

Funding policies and limitations

Changes in HHS regulations

As of October 1, 2025, HHS adopted 2 CFR 200, with some exceptions included in 2 CFR 300. These regulations replace those in 45 CFR 75.

General policies

- We will only make awards if this program receives funding. If Congress appropriates funds for this purpose, we will move forward with the review and award process.
- Support beyond the first budget period will depend on:
 - Appropriation of funds.
 - Satisfactory progress in meeting your project's objectives.
 - A decision that continued funding is in the government's best interest.
- If we receive more funding for this program, we will consider:
 - Funding more applicants.
 - Extending the period of performance.
 - Awarding supplemental funding.
- To the extent permitted by law, including any relevant court orders, you may not use funds from this NOFO for any diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility (DEI and DEIA) activities. This includes:

- DEI- or DEIA-related research.
- Activities that discriminate based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, or other protected traits.
- Any efforts that promote a “discriminatory equity ideology.”
- To the extent permitted by law, including any relevant court orders, ACF will also not allow funds awarded under this NOFO to support any services or activities that inculcate or promote gender ideology.

For guidance on other types of costs that we restrict or do not allow, see General Provisions for Selected Items of Costs of the Uniform Guidance, 2 CFR part 200.

Program-specific limitations and policies

We do not allow the following costs under this notice of funding opportunity (NOFO):

- Construction.
- Purchase of real property.
- Major renovation.
- Pre-award.

Indirect costs

Indirect costs are those shared across multiple projects and not easily separated.

To charge indirect costs you can select one of two methods:

Method 1 — Approved rate. If you currently have an indirect cost rate approved by your cognizant federal agency, you may use that rate.

Method 2 — De minimis rate. If you do not have a current negotiated indirect cost rate, you may elect to charge a de minimis rate (see 2 CFR 200.414\(f\)). This rate is 15% of modified total direct costs (MTDC). See the definition of MTDC (2 CFR 200.1). You can use this rate indefinitely.

You may not charge costs included in your indirect cost pool as direct costs.

Subawards

As the prime recipient, you must maintain a substantive role in the project. This means that you conduct funded activities and provide services necessary and integral to completing the project.

Monitoring your subrecipient’s activities alone as described in 2 CFR 200.332 is not a substantive role.

We do not fund awards where your role is primarily a conduit for passing funds to other organizations unless that arrangement is authorized by statute.

All subrecipients must have a Unique Entity Identifier (UEI) through the System for Award Management (SAM.gov).

Subrecipients must meet the eligibility requirements of this NOFO.

Salary rate limitation

The salary rate limitation in the current appropriations act applies to this program. You may not use awarded funds to pay a salary at a higher rate than the rate for Executive Level II.

For the Executive Level II salary, please see the Office of Personnel Management information on executive and senior level employee pay.

The salary limitation reflects a person's base salary (including any portion of the salary that is paid with indirect costs). It does not include fringe benefits or any income the person is allowed to earn outside of the duties of the applicant organization.

This salary limitation also applies to subawards, contracts, and subcontracts under an ACF grant or cooperative agreement.

Watch the webinar

We will have a pre-recorded webinar available at <https://acf.gov/grants>.

The goals of this session are to clearly explain the funding opportunity, eligibility requirements, application process, and evaluation criteria to ensure that potential applicants can submit complete, high-quality proposals.

Viewing is voluntary and anonymous.

Opting not to participate in the session will not affect eligibility, application scoring, or the award selection process.

If there is a discrepancy between the presentation or materials and the NOFO, the NOFO takes precedence.

- A brief description of the project, including the needs and population you will address, your proposed services or research questions.

Project narrative

The project narrative is where you address all your proposed activities. It is a critical section of your application, which we evaluate using merit review criteria and rank based on application scores.

Remember that substance and measurable outcomes are more important than length. We are particularly interested in project narratives that convey strategies for achieving intended performance.

In it, you must:

- Explain how the project will meet the purpose of the NOFO, as described in the program description section.
- Make sure your narrative is clear, concise, and complete.
- Use cross-referencing rather than repetition.
- Be sure to include any required supporting documents noted. You generally provide these in your attachments.
- Use the headings and order of the sections that follow.

Purpose and need

Geographic location

Provide the precise physical location of your project and boundaries of the area you will serve. If you will include any subrecipients in your project that will serve specific geographic areas, include their locations as well.

For each proposed location, provide:

- A detailed explanation of how you and any subrecipients will establish and deliver services.
- How your proposed service area boundaries align with logical geographic divisions, population centers, and transportation infrastructure.
- Your ability to serve high-need areas and remote locations.

Show how you will minimize delays and that children and sponsors will continue to receive services while you are getting started.

- Cover the full period of performance in your timeline.

Logic model

You must submit a logic model for designing, managing, and evaluating the project. A logic model is a diagram that:

- Presents how inputs drive activities to produce outputs, outcomes, and the ultimate goals of the proposed project.
- Explains the links among project elements.
- Targets the identified objectives and goals of the project.

While there are many versions of logic models, for the purposes of this funding opportunity, the logic model may include the connections between:

- The key staff who will be responsible for maintaining oversight of program staff and any partners or subrecipients.

Line-item budget and budget narrative

The line-item budget and budget justification support the information you provide in the Budget Information Standard Form SF-424A.

HHS now uses the definitions for equipment and supplies in 2 CFR 200.1. The new definitions change the threshold for equipment to the lesser of the recipient's capitalization level or $10,000 and the threshold for supplies to below that amount.

Justify the costs you ask for and provide detail, including calculations for the "object class categories" in the Budget Information Standard Form. You will provide this information for the initial budget period only. See information on funding periods.

As you develop your budget, consider:

- If the costs are necessary, reasonable, allocable, and consistent with your project's purpose and activities.
- How you calculate your costs in ways that are clear and repeatable.
- The restrictions on spending funds. See the funding policies and limitations.

Please also review the Standard Form instructions.

To create your line-item budget and justification, see detailed budget instructions on our website.

In general, you must:

- Indicate the method you will use for your indirect cost rate. See the indirect costs section for further information.
- Include estimation methods, quantities, unit costs, and other similar quantitative detail necessary for the calculation to be duplicated.
- For any cost sharing, include a detailed listing of any funding sources identified in Block 18 of the SF-424 Application for Federal Assistance.
- For applicants planning to use subawards, if your subaward budget is more than 50% of total direct costs, justify why you are subawarding that portion of the project. Explain:
 - How you plan to maintain a substantive role in the project.
 - Why you cannot achieve your goals without the subrecipients' participation.

Proprietary or personally identifiable information

Clearly identify any salary or other proprietary information or personally identifiable information within your application. Identification will ensure this information is not shared with reviewers. Note on page 1 of the attachments file (file two) where the information to be redacted is located.

If you have an exemption for a paper submission, you can protect salary information and any proprietary information by placing that information only in the original application. You can remove the information from the copies, keeping summary information.

ACF's published vision, mission, values, priorities, and guiding principles inform programmatic and administrative expectations under this funding opportunity.

Applicants must demonstrate alignment by describing how the proposed project advances relevant ACF priorities through program design and evaluation. Applicants should clearly identify which ACF priorities are relevant and explain how those priorities are reflected in the proposed approach. Applicants are encouraged to provide examples of prior experiences that can show alignment efforts that have already been achieved. Examples should describe strategies used, measurable results (if available), and lessons learned.

Applicants are strongly encouraged to organize their response using the three criteria:

- Demonstrated Review and Understanding.
- Operationalization in Program Design and Implementation.

Important: Public information

When filling out your SF-424 form, pay attention to Box 15: Descriptive Title of Applicant's Project.

We share what you put there with USAspending. This is where the public goes to learn how the federal government spends taxpayer money.

Instead of just a title, insert a short description of your project and what it will do.

[See instructions and examples \[PDF\]](#).

Learn About Review and Award

In this step

Application review

Initial review

We will review your application to make sure that it meets the responsiveness requirements listed in the disqualification factors section. If your application does not meet these criteria, we will disqualify it and we will not move it to the merit review (scoring) phase.

We will let you know if your application is disqualified within 30 days of the application deadline. You won't receive any notice from ACF if your application failed Grants.gov validation checks.

If you submit more than two files in addition to your forms, we will remove the extra files. We will let you know if this happens.

We will also remove blurred or illegible pages and any file formats that are not supported.

We will not review any pages that exceed the page limit.

If your application fails to adhere to ACF's NOFO formatting, font, and page limitation requirements, we will adjust your application by removing page(s) from the application. We will remove the pages before the merit review and will not send them to reviewers.

If we do so, we will send you a letter after we make awards to notify you that we amended your application.

Merit review process

A panel reviews all applications that pass the initial review. The panel members use the criteria shown in each section of the project narrative and in the line-item budget and budget narrative section.

Our reviewers typically are not federal employees. See the section on proprietary and personally identifiable information.

Risk review

Before making an award, we review the risk that you will mismanage federal funds or fail to complete the project objectives. We need to make sure you've handled any past federal awards well and demonstrated sound business practices.

We use SAM.gov Responsibility/Qualification and Exclusions to check this history for all awards likely to be over $250,000.

If we find a significant risk, we may choose not to fund your application or to place specific conditions on the award.

For more details, see 2 CFR 200.206.

Selection process

When making funding decisions, we consider:

- Merit review and scoring results, including the ten points for Alignment with ACF Vision, Mission, Values, Priorities, and Guiding Principles to the extent permitted by law. These are key in making decisions but are not the only factor.
- Organizations serving emerging, unserved, or underserved populations.
- The larger portfolio of agency-funded projects by considering geographic distribution.
- The past performance of the applicant.

- The application's compliance with this NOFO's prohibition on using funds awarded under this NOFO to support DEI and DEIA activities, to the extent permitted by law, including any relevant court orders.
- Funding Preference for Alignment with Agency Priorities. Before final funding decisions are made, division leadership will review awards for consistency with applicable laws and alignment with agency priorities.
- Agency leadership review of applications for consistency with applicable laws and alignment with agency priorities and to the extent permitted by law, eligibility for funding preference based on that alignment.

We may:

- Fund applications in whole or in part.
- Fund applications at a lower amount than requested.
- Decide not to allow a prime recipient to subaward if they may not be able to monitor and manage subrecipients properly.
- Decide not to fund a project with high start-up costs or unreasonably high operating costs.
- Choose not to fund applicants with management or financial problems.
- Designate your application as "approved but unfunded" if it was successful but there was not sufficient funding to make an award. You may receive funding if additional funds become available within the fiscal year.
- Choose to fund no applications under this NOFO.

We will not fund:

- A disqualified application.
- An incomplete application.

Award notices

If you are successful, we will email or transmit through our grant systems a Notice of Award (NoA) to your authorized official. We will email you if your application is disqualified or unsuccessful.

The NoA is the only official award document. The NoA tells you about the amount of the award, important dates, and the terms and conditions you need to follow. Until you receive the NoA, you have not received an award. Project costs that you incur before you receive a NoA are at your risk.

By drawing down funds, you accept the terms and conditions of the award. The award incorporates the requirements of the program and funding authorities, the grant regulations, the GPS, and the NOFO.

If you want to know more about NoA contents, go to Notice of Award at ACF's website.

- If you receive an exemption from electronic submission, the due time is 4:30 p.m. ET. See the section on exemptions for paper submissions.

Grants.gov creates a date and time record when it receives the application. If you submit the same application more than once, we will accept only the last on-time submission.

The grants management officer may extend an application due date based on emergency situations such as documented natural disasters or a verifiable widespread disruption of electric or mail service.

Grants.gov submission

You must submit your application through Grants.gov unless we give you an exemption for a paper submission. See information on getting registered.

For instructions on how to submit in Grants.gov, see the Quick Start Guide for Applicants.

Make sure your application passes the Grants.gov validation checks. Do not encrypt, zip, or password protect any files. We encourage you to leave yourself plenty of time to upload documents.

See Contacts and Support if you need help.

Issues with federal systems

If you experience a systems issue with Grants.gov or SAM.gov, please refer to [ACF's Policy for Applicants Experiencing Federal Systems Issues \[PDF\]](#).

Learn What Happens After Award

In this step

Post-award requirements and administration 68

Post-award requirements and administration

Administrative and national policy requirements

There are important rules you'll need to follow if you get an award. You must follow:

- All terms and conditions in the Notice of Award, including the ACF Standard Terms and Conditions and, if applicable, any program-specific terms and conditions. We incorporate this NOFO by reference.
- The rules listed in 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements, effective October 1, 2025. These replace those in 45 CFR 75, with some exceptions in 2 CFR 300.
- The HHS Grants Policy Statement \(GPS\). This document has terms and conditions tied to your award. If there are any exceptions to the GPS, they'll be listed in your Notice of Award.
- All federal statutes and regulations relevant to federal financial assistance, including those highlighted in the HHS Grants Policy Statement, Appendix D: HHS Administrative and National Policy Requirements, and the ACF Administrative and National Policy Requirements.
- 45 CFR Part 87 Appendix B, Equal Treatment for Faith-Based Organizations. This appendix explains the obligations of and protections for faith-based organizations applying for grants.
- Other relevant laws and regulations include:
 - Relevant portions of the Prison Rape Elimination Act of 2003 (PREA of 2003), as amended by the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 (VAWA), 34 U.S.C. 30307(d).

- Additionally, ORR must also comply with any applicable terms of the Stipulated Settlement Agreement in Flores v. Bondi, Case No. 2:85-4544-DMG-AGR) (C.D. Cal.) that remain in force after the agreement's partial and conditional termination as to HHS in an Order dated June 28, 2024 (see ECF 1447).

ORR's policies regarding the provision of Post-Release Services (PRS) are discussed in ORR UACB's Policy Guide. ORR's policies concerning home studies are at Section 2.4.2.

Grantees and contractors must forward to ORR any request from external entities, such as the Department of Homeland Security, for records or information and await further instruction. Care provider records are the property of ORR; accordingly, grantees and contractors may not respond directly to such requests without prior ORR authorization.

Reporting

As a recipient, you will have to submit performance and financial reports. To learn more about reporting, see Reporting at the ACF website.

- Performance report form: ACF-OGM-PPR.
 - Performance report frequency: Quarterly.
