EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The mission of the State Department's Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs (INL) is to minimize the impact of international crime and illegal drugs on the United States, its citizens, and partner nations by providing effective foreign assistance and fostering global cooperation. This mission, which centers on helping our partner nations establish a capable and accountable criminal justice sector, was expanded during the past decade to include stabilizing post-conflict societies through criminal justice sector development and reform. This mission supports peace and security by stabilizing and strengthening security institutions and by combating narco-trafficking and other transnational crimes such as money laundering and criminal gangs. It promotes just and democratic governments by strengthening justice sector institutions, good governance and respect for human rights.

INL combines forces with other USG and international agencies and takes a regional approach to widespread problems. INL also encourages more developed governments to take responsibility as equal partners in global efforts to combat transnational crime, include drug trafficking. The Bureau's priority programs support three inter-related objectives:

- BUILDING CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEMS: Institutionalize rule of law by developing and expanding criminal justice systems to strengthen partner country law enforcement and judicial effectiveness, foster cooperation in legal affairs, and advance respect for human rights;
- COUNTER-NARCOTICS: Disrupt the overseas production and trafficking of illicit drugs through targeted counter-narcotics and institution-building assistance and coordination with foreign nations and international organizations, and;
- TRANSNATIONAL CRIME: Minimize the impact of transnational crime and criminal networks on the U.S. and its allies through enhanced international cooperation and foreign assistance.

SECTION I – PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

BACKGROUND

Around the world, corruption threatens security and stability, creates obstacles to economic growth, facilitates transnational threats and criminal activity, and siphons away public and private resources. While some governments work to prevent and combat corruption, civil society and investigative journalists play an important role in exposing corruption and providing government oversight. In this context, the U.S. government has identified anti-corruption as a national security priority under the 2017 National Security Strategy and Department of State-USAID Joint Strategic Plan. INL leads the Department of State's efforts to prevent and combat corruption globally by strengthening justice sector institutions, supporting reform efforts, and empowering citizen advocates to hold governments accountable to anti-corruption standards. INL tailors its technical support to bolster capacities of partner countries through multilateral, regional, and country-specific programs.

The Western Hemisphere region is a priority region for anti-corruption action and reform. Throughout the region, corruption enables and empowers transnational criminal organizations (TCOs) by either funding their activities through illicit financial transactions or influencing governments to overlook their criminal activity that can harm U.S. and foreign citizens. In extreme cases, TCOs and corrupt officials work together to achieve their goals and avoid legal consequences. This corruption directly undermines the ability of the criminal justice sector to be accountable and to deliver justice and security. As the Panama Papers, coverage of the Odebrecht scandal, and other investigative reporting on corruption in the region have shown, corrupt officials and criminals rely on illicit avenues in the financial system to buy favor, steal resources, and hide criminal activities from the public and justice sector. UN Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) research shows that high-level and local-level corruption facilitates the trafficking of drugs, primarily cocaine, in South, Central, and North America. UNODC also highlights how organized crime groups leverage corruption at borders to more freely move illicit goods, and rely on high-level corruption and corrupt law enforcement officials to reduce disruption of illicit flows and hinder enforcement to counter them.

To ensure effective justice systems that can fight corruption and its role in organized crime, it is important to build the investigative capacity of journalists to uncover illicit activity and to strengthen relationships between journalists and the justice sector, including greater awareness by the latter of the usefulness of the information uncovered by the former. The U.S. government remains committed to combatting corruption and upholding transparent democratic institutions and rule of law in the region. INL provides technical assistance to address corruption in accordance with international and regional anti-corruption standards. Assistance includes support to help investigators and prosecutors so they are equipped to enforce domestic anti-corruption laws and cooperate with international law enforcement partners, as well as assistance to build strong and independent judiciaries and to strengthen civil society and investigative journalism.

To support investigative journalism on the topic of corruption, corruption proceeds, and illicit financial transactions (i.e. money laundering) of such proceeds, the U.S. Department of State has allocated $500,000 in FY 2017 International Narcotics Control and Law Enforcement (INCLE) funds to this grant opportunity. Foreign assistance will support work in at least two of four target countries in the region (Guatemala, Mexico, Panama, and Peru) to support investigative capacity building and awareness-raising between journalists and law enforcement, where possible. These countries may serve as a pilot for future programming.

PROJECT PURPOSE/DESCRIPTION

This award will support efforts in at least two of four target countries (select among: Guatemala, Mexico, Panama, and Peru) to increase the capacity of investigative journalists to uncover corruption and illicit finance, particularly as facilitators of transnational organized crime. Applicants should specify in which of the four countries they will conduct activities. Applications that include investigative skill development focused on corruption's role in the funding or facilitation of the activities of TCOs and networks will be viewed especially favorably. Examples include instances when TCOs provide money-laundering services or bribes to the corrupt and/or when high-level political figures are involved in large-scale corruption. Where possible, the project will develop better relationships between journalists and justice sector actors to facilitate information sharing and stimulate enforcement action against corruption. Where such a relationship would be harmful, the project could focus on raising the awareness of journalists and justice sector of each other's efforts. Doing so may help journalists produce actionable information and help law enforcement to follow available reporting. However, potential recipients need not include activities under this component if they do not believe it is feasible and beneficial in the proposed countries given security concerns.

Proposals should include, and be based on, an analysis of the state of investigative journalism in proposed countries, the relationship between journalists and the justice sector, and institutional strengths and deficiencies related to investigative journalism, if relevant. Proposals should demonstrate existing knowledge of interactions between journalists and law enforcement. Where possible, proposals should provide a list of anticipated media organizations and justice sector entities that may be included in project activities. The recipient should expect to rely on in-house expertise, as well as identify external experts, to conduct trainings and participate in activities. The recipient would ideally coordinate with multiple stakeholders in this process, to include foreign governments, local civil society, and relevant international organizations. The recipient should expect to work with the U.S. government and receive input on all phases of the project and expect U.S. Embassies to provide input on training activities, trainers, selection of trainees, and vetting.

The recipient will maintain responsibility for organizing and/or coordinating opportunities for capacity building, awareness raising, and/or networking. Strong submissions will include information on how the project will leverage a multi-country approach and participation, recognizing that the approach will vary from country to country. Proposals should explicitly state how they will complement other U.S. government-funded efforts to support investigative journalists in revealing corruption, or those underway with the support of other donors. Proposals should align with U.S. priorities and strategies in-country.

Proposals should explicitly state how the recipient will coordinate participant selection with relevant agencies in each participating country, such as INL, USAID, and the Public Affairs Section (PAS) to include allowing PAS review of all proposed participants prior to their final selection. Proposals should also explicitly state how the recipient will coordinate training/activity topics with Post and other U.S. government entities prior to beginning training. Topic review should include a general description of proposed themes and a proposed timeline, with sufficient time for the U.S. government to request changes prior to carrying out the training.

The project is comprised of the following objectives and corresponding activities:

PROJECT GOALS

The program's goal is to improve the quality and quantity of investigative pieces exposing corruption and illicit finance, particularly as facilitators of transnational crime, in the Western Hemisphere. The project also seeks to increase awareness among justice sector actors and journalists of relevant information produced by each group (i.e. law enforcement alerts, tips, or actionable reporting), and to identify and promote ways in which they might more effectively engage each other when possible.

PROJECT OBJECTIVES

Objective 1: Improve the ability, including the capacity, of investigative journalists to expose corruption and related illicit financial activity, and increase journalists' awareness of law enforcement activities and what makes information actionable, to include skills in producing such information and in accessing publicly available investigative information.

Background: Meeting this objective will increase actionable information for law enforcement and produce information with which citizens can hold public officials accountable.

Activities may include, but are not limited to:

- Training on and development of investigative skills and techniques to uncover corruption and illicit financial transactions, incorporating journalists from multiple countries and advancing existing investigative journalist networks, as relevant.
- Education on the nexus between corruption and transnational organized crime
- Training on how to produce actionable information for law enforcement and how to access open source information (i.e. law enforcement alerts), including relevant websites and research technologies, whenever it is possible and helpful.
- Networking and awareness-raising between journalists and civil society to ensure civil society is aware of investigative reporting and can take action to hold government accountable.
- Journalist protection training focused on journalist security and proper steps to ensure protection of their physical person, investigative information and digital presence, throughout investigations.
- Legal and institutional analyses of laws and policies related to journalist freedoms and protections, only if especially relevant and useful in the local context.

Objective 2: Increase justice sector awareness of the work of investigative journalists and their willingness to draw upon helpful information for operational leads in their own investigations, and build relationships between law enforcement and journalists, only if it would be both possible and helpful in the countries selected.

Background: Meeting this objective will improve law enforcement action to address credible cases of corruption uncovered by journalists, and ideally strengthen the accountability and oversight role and influence of journalists in their countries. However, the relationship between journalists and law enforcement can be tenuous. Potential recipients should only propose activities under this objective one or more of the selected countries if they feel such programming is feasible and beneficial and if it would not cause harm.

Activities may include, but are not limited to:

- Training for law enforcement on where to access available reporting on corruption and how to use information to pursue case leads (i.e. tips or actionable reports).
- Activities designed to increase awareness among justice sector actors and journalists of ways in which they might engage each other, where possible and helpful.
- Networking opportunities to facilitate relationship building and information sharing between justice sector actors and journalists, only if such activities would be helpful rather than harmful and with special attention to challenges.

CROSS-CUTTING AND ADDITIONAL ACTIVITIES

1. Coordination and De-conflicting of Projects (if current projects exist in-country)

Where other organizations are conducting similar projects, we encourage collaboration, coordination, and de-conflicting of projects to maximize impact. Include in the proposal a description of any similar work you have performed on these topics and if there is overlap specifically with this project. If there is overlap, explain how this previous work will support the projects outlined in this NOFO. Demonstrate understanding of other organizations (to include U.S. government agencies and U.S. Embassies) working in the country on this issue and how your program will complement and coordinate with their work. The implementer should expect to brief INL and U.S. government representatives at Embassies and in Washington DC on project activities and progress.

2. Buy-in and Local Ownership

INL values the development of buy-in and local ownership in investigative journalism on corruption and illicit finance. The recipient should expect to develop partnerships with local investigative journalists and rely on local stakeholders to inform programming, wherever possible. The recipient will consult INL, U.S. Embassy and other U.S. government entities throughout the project.

3. Utilize Local Resources and Expertise

INL values involving local community experts to help conduct planning and programming, since their knowledge of domestic corruption will strengthen the program's outcomes. We encourage collaborating with and using local resources and experts in the region when possible.

4. Program Expansion

In the event of a successful project, INL will consider the option of expanding the project to other countries in the region (and/or other regions where INL has presence) subject to availability of future funding. Applicants are strongly encouraged to demonstrate how their project might leverage funding through other organizations.

TARGET POPULATION

Applicants should identify target countries (among: Guatemala, Mexico, Panama, and Peru), audiences, and specific demographics in which the project will be implemented. This implementation should occur in at least two of the target countries. The proposal must specify the approximate number of beneficiaries to be directly and indirectly impacted by project activities.

DESIRED RESULTS AND ILLUSTRATIVE INDICATORS

By the end of the 18 months of the project, the selected applicant is expected to:

- Equip investigative journalists with critical investigative skills and knowledge to follow and report on public corruption and related illicit finance, in general and cognizant of developing information that may stimulate law enforcement action.
- Improve investigative journalism on corruption and illicit finance in the selected countries, both in quality and quantity.
- Help journalists understand how the justice sector and law enforcement approach anti-corruption investigations, either through awareness raising or network building.
- Increase the justice sector's awareness of criminal activity by providing justice sector actors with the opportunity to engage with journalists, when it would be helpful, and/or be more open to drawing upon the fruits of investigative journalism.
- Increase the instances in which law enforcement actions against corruption occur due to investigative journalism on the issue.

The recipient will develop a project-level Performance Monitoring plan (PMP) with annual and end-of-project targets and results anticipated for key performance indicators. The following table shows illustrative indicators to be measured, as well as illustrative targets, upon which the recipient will be responsible for monitoring and reporting during and after the project. In addition, INL/C will regularly monitor the project's performance to assess whether project activities are on track and targets are being achieved.

Example outcome indicators for the program are provided below. The recipient should identify outcome indicators and targets based on what it can reasonably achieve within the program's performance period, in an environment of corruption, and based on expected overall program results.

Example Outcome Indicators	Targets
Number of law enforcement actions taken by country law enforcement due to investigative journalism	TBD
Number of investigative pieces leading to some kind of action against corruption	TBD
Percentage of justice sector actors and journalists trained that report awareness of the other sector and/or skills to follow information produced by the other sector.	TBD

Example output indicators and targets for the program are provided below. The recipient should identify output indicators and targets based on what it can reasonably achieve within the program's performance period, and in an environment of corruption, and based on the outcomes described above.

Example Output Indicators	Targets
Number of training sessions for investigative journalists on investigative skills, including how to use law enforcement information	TBD
Number of education sessions for investigative journalists on the nexus between transnational organized crime and corruption	TBD

Number of training sessions for justice sector actors on investigative journalism reports	TBD
Number of networking sessions between journalists and law enforcement	TBD

The recipient may propose additional outputs, indicators, and/or targets as appropriate. The recipient will be required to collect baseline data for all the PMP indicators during the first year of the project. In addition, certain terms included in the outcomes and indicators will need to be defined at the very beginning of the project so that it is possible to measure the change during and at the end of the project. Examples of such are “capacity”, “spread effect”, etc. Baseline information will be critical for both monitoring and evaluation of project progress and results.

The U.S. government reserves the right (but is not under obligation to do so), to enter into discussions with one or more applicant(s) in order to obtain clarifications, additional detail, or to suggest refinements in the program description, budget, or other aspects of an application.

Applicants please be advised that the following may be required if your organization is selected for this announcement.

State Department Leahy Amendment Vetting Requirements:

Funds provided under this award are subject to Section 620M of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended, a provision titled “Limitation on Assistance to Security Forces” (the “Leahy Amendment”). Subsection (a) of that provision states: “(a) In General.—No assistance shall be furnished under this Act [the Foreign Assistance Act] or the Arms Export Control Act to any unit of the security forces of a foreign country if the Secretary of State has credible information that such unit has committed a gross violations of human rights.” Accordingly, none of the funds under this award may be used to provide training or other assistance to any unit or member of the security forces of a foreign country if the Department of State has credible information that such unit or individual has committed a gross violation of human rights.

In signing this agreement, the Recipient agrees to exercise due diligence to ensure compliance with the Leahy provision and State Department policy, and to cooperate with the State Department in implementation of the Leahy requirement for funds under this award. The Department implements the Leahy requirement by vetting units or individuals proposed for training or other assistance to check for credible information of a gross violation of human rights by such units or individuals. To facilitate State Department vetting, the Recipient must provide the following information for proposed participants at least sixty (60) calendar days prior to commencing award activities. This information should be submitted to the U.S. Embassy in the country where the award will be implemented in order to initiate Leahy vetting procedures:

Information needed: Full name, date of birth, country of birth, country of citizenship, gender, rank, title, and organizational affiliation. Please also include the activity and date that the activity will take place—if the person will participate throughout an extended program, please note the timeframe. Participant information should be submitted in the format attached.

Information required for “security forces” personnel: The above information is needed for each member of a foreign police or military unit (security forces, broadly defined) who will participate in any activity under this award. This includes both civilian and military employees of security forces participating in any activities funded under this award, including training, workshops or meetings, conferences, or other activities.

The Recipient must collaborate with the relevant U.S. Embassy on a case-by-case basis to determine if the Leahy requirement applies to specific activities or proposed participants. Individuals who are not members of the security forces but who participate in activities under the award (e.g., politicians, academics, etc.) generally do not need to be vetted.

Submission Deadline: Each candidate must be cleared under Leahy vetting in advance of participation in activities funded under this award. The vetting process typically takes approximately one month, but may take longer if there are a large number of candidates or if issues arise. Thus, all information on proposed candidates must be received by the Embassy at least sixty (60) days in advance of the training event or other activity.

The Recipient agrees that it will not include any security forces candidate in training or other activities funded under this award until the State Department advises that the candidate has cleared Leahy vetting and is approved for participation.

- C. All Microsoft Word documents are single-spaced, 12 point Times New Roman font, with a minimum of 1-inch margins.
- D. All documents must be submitted in English. (Please note: Per Department policy, English is the official and controlling language for all submitted application/award documents.)

Complete applications must include the following for proposal submissions:

- 1. Completed and signed SF-424, SF-424A, and SF424B, submitted via www.grants.gov, as well as, if applicable (Please see Tab D for instructions for completion of Standard Forms 424, 424A, and 424B.)
- 2. A copy of your organization's most recent audit (as required per 2 CFR 200.500 – Subpart F). If an audit cannot be provided, an explanation must be submitted with the proposal submission.
- 3. Cover Page that sets forth proposal title, name of lead applicant, names of any other participating organizations, name and number of the Target Themes to which the proposal responds, and requested funding amount in U.S. dollars (see the award amount ceiling as stated in the NOFO)
- 4. Table of Contents (not to exceed one [1] page in Microsoft Word) that includes a page-numbered contents page, including any attachments.
- 5. Executive Summary (not to exceed two [2] pages in Microsoft Word) that includes:
 - a) the target country(ies),
 - b) name and contact information for the project's main point of contact,
 - c) a statement of work or synopsis of the program, including a concise breakdown of the project's objectives, activities, and expected results,
 - d) the total amount of funding requested and program length, and
 - e) a brief statement on how the project is innovative, sustainable, and will have a demonstrated impact.
- 6. Proposal Narrative (not to exceed fifteen [15] pages in Microsoft Word). Please note the page limit does not include the required documents listed in items #2 - 5 and items #7 – 16 (below).
- 7. Summary and Detailed Line-Item Budget (preferably in Microsoft Excel) that includes three [3] columns including the request to INL, any cost sharing contribution, and total budget (see below for more information on budget format). A summary budget should also be included using the OMB approved budget categories (see SF-424 as a sample). Costs must be in U.S. dollars. (Sample template is provided as an attachment under the announcement via www.grants.gov.)
- 8. Budget Narrative (preferably in Microsoft Word) that includes an explanation and justification for each line item in the detailed budget spreadsheet, as well as the source and a description of all cost-share offered. For ease of review, INL recommends applicants order the budget narrative as presented in the detailed budget. Personnel costs should include a clarification of the roles and responsibilities of key staff and percentage of time devoted to the project. The budget narrative should communicate to INL any information that might not be readily apparent in the budget, not simply repeat with words what is stated numerically in the budget. (Sample template is provided as an attachment under the announcement via www.grants.gov.)

9. NICRA: If your organization has a negotiated indirect cost rate agreement (NICRA) and will include NICRA charges in the budget, your latest NICRA must be included as a .pdf file. This document will not be reviewed by the panelists, but rather used by program and grant staff if the submission is recommended for funding and therefore does not count against the submission page limitations, as described above. If your proposal involves subgrants to organizations charging indirect costs, please submit the applicable NICRA also as a .pdf file (see “INDIRECT COST RATE” below for more information on indirect cost rates).

If your organization does NOT have a negotiated indirect cost rate agreement (NICRA) please specify if your organization elects to charge the de minimis rate of 10% of the modified total direct costs. The de minimis rate must be included in the detailed budget and an explanation must be provided in the budget narrative.

10. Monitoring and Evaluation Plan and Logic Model; (see TAB B below for more information on this section); Sample templates provided as attachments under the announcement via www.grants.gov.
11. Roles and responsibilities of key program personnel with short bios that highlight relevant professional experience. This relates to the organization’s capacity. Given the limited space, CVs are not recommended for submission.
12. Timeline of the overall proposal - Components should include activities, evaluation efforts, and program closeout
13. A list of previous and/or current federal assistance awards received; please include the awarding agency, point of contact, name of the project, start and end dates, and amount of the award.
14. Program Risk Analysis: Please provide the required risk analysis information as noted in TAB B of this NOFO. (Sample template is provided as an attachment under the announcement via www.grants.gov.)
15. INL Pre Award Annual Survey – template provided by INL that reviews the organization’s financial capacity and infrastructure. (Sample template is provided as an attachment under the announcement via www.grants.gov.)
16. Attachments (not to exceed five (5) pages total, preferably in Microsoft Word) that include the following in order:
- a) Additional optional attachments. Attachments may include further timeline information, letters of support, memoranda of understanding (MOU)/agreement, etc. For applicants with a large number of letters/MOUs, it may be useful to provide a list of the organizations or government agencies that support the program rather than the actual documentation.

Note: INL retains the right to request additional documentation for those items not included on this form.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET (OMB) CIRCULARS

Organizations should be familiar with 2 CFR 200 on cost accounting principles. For a copy of the OMB circular cited, please contact Government Publications or download from http://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title02/2cfr200_main_02.tpl. Overseas-based nonprofit organizations are legally required to comply with 2 CFR 200.

AUDITS

The recipient's proposal should include the cost of an audit that:

- 1) Complies with the requirements of 2 CFR 200 Subpart F "Audit Requirements;"
- 2) Complies with the requirements of American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) Statement of Position (SOP) No. 92-9, "Audits of Not-for-Profit Organizations Receiving Federal Awards;"
- 3) Complies with AICPA Codification of Statements on Auditing Standards AU Section 551, "Reporting on Information Accompanying the Basic Financial Statements in Auditor-Submitted Documents," where applicable. When the U.S. Department of State is the largest direct source of Federal financial assistance (i.e., the cognizant Federal Agency) and indirect costs are charged to Federal grants, a supplemental schedule of indirect cost computation is required;
- 4) A non-Federal entity that expends $750,000 or more during the non-Federal entity's fiscal year in Federal awards must have a single or program-specific audit conducted for that year in accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200 subpart F. The audit costs shall be identified by 2 CFR 200.435.

INDIRECT COST-RATE

An organization with a negotiated indirect cost rate agreement (NICRA) negotiated with a cognizant federal government agency other than the U.S. Department of State must include a copy of the cost-rate agreement. Applicants should indicate in the proposal budget how the rate is applied and if any of the rate will be cost-shared. Per 2 CFR 200.414, any non-Federal entity that has never received a negotiated indirect cost rate, except for those non-Federal entities described in Appendix VII to Part 200—States and Local Government and Indian Tribe Indirect Cost Proposals, paragraph D.1.b, may elect to charge a de minimis rate of 10% of modified total direct costs (MTDC) 200.68 Modified Total Direct cost (MTDC) which may be used indefinitely. MTDC means all direct salaries and wages, applicable fringe benefits, materials and supplies, services, travel, and sub-awards and sub-contracts up to the first $25,000 of each sub-award or sub-contract (regardless of the period of performance of the sub-awards and sub-contracts under the award). MTDC excludes equipment ($5,000 or greater), capital expenditures, charges for patient care, rental costs, tuition remission, scholarships and fellowships, participant support costs and the portion of each sub-award and sub-contract in excess of $25,000. As described in 2 CFR 200.403, factors affecting allowability of costs, costs must be consistently charged as either indirect or direct costs, but may not be double charged or inconsistently charged as both. If chosen, this methodology once elected must be used consistently for all Federal awards until such time as a non-Federal entity chooses to negotiate for a rate, which the non-Federal entity may apply to do at any time.

[END OF SECTION IV]

TAB A: PROPOSAL GUIDELINES

Proposals should include the following components:

- Introduction and Problem Statement
- Planned Activities
- Indicators

Problem Statement and Rationale: Describe the problem and how the project will achieve or contribute to achieving a sustainable solution and a measurable outcome. The applicant should explain the extent of existing assistance within the particular geographic area, and how the proposed intervention may complement (or differ from) other similar interventions. The implementer should also explain, as necessary, the particular experience and qualifications they bring to the project. The rationale should also reflect understanding of the priorities and policies of the bureau/post or program with which this agreement is associated.

Planned Activities and Indicators: Describe the planned activities, and relevant stakeholders for implementation. The implementer should highlight key stakeholders and their expected role in the project, along with any contingencies. The implementer should list assumptions that are dependent on the ultimate success of the project. This could include elements like geographic location, coordination efforts with other international organizations, or political will from host governments, private sector, and NGOs. As appropriate, limited contingency possibilities should be included in the proposal, in case the initial planning assumptions are not met. Example of a planned activity and contingency:

Planned Activity	Contingency
Energy efficiency workshops in collaboration with the government of Mexico and other representatives from the Latin America region, focused on raising awareness of energy efficiency standards.	If government of Mexico doesn't engage at the expected level, project team will look to other regional stakeholders, such as the OAS, to assist in convening key stakeholders.

In the proposal, there should be a clearly defined link between each of the following elements as delineated:

Problem Statement → Planned Activities/Inputs → Process Indicators → Output Indicators → Outcome Indicators → Impact

Process Indicators measure the activity that has been completed. Please delineate the specific activities to be conducted, such as workshops, roundtables, trainings, forums, exchanges, policy dialogues, etc. All indicators must include targets. Example of a process indicator:

Process Indicator	50 women trained in energy efficiency standards

Output Indicators, otherwise known as deliverables associated with the agreement, should be included. Unlike process indicators, outputs are what is produced, and are often tangible. At this level, it is the measurement of ability, knowledge, skills, or access. All indicators must include targets. Example of an output indicator involving the same participants:

Output Indicator	80 percent of participants demonstrate at least 75 percent cognizance of efficiency standards
-------------------------	--

Outcome Indicators measure the change in system or behavior or practice. Expected outcomes are the results that come from a series of activities that are necessary to achieve impact. All indicators must include targets. Example of an outcome indicator:

Outcome Indicator	30 percent of efficiency standards being implemented in a participant's country as a result of participant's participation.
--------------------------	--

All indicators must include measurable, numerical targets, which should serve as the foundation for monitoring and evaluation efforts. Ultimately, proposed activities and achievement of indicator targets will lead to impact.

TAB B: PROGRAM MONITORING AND EVALUATION PLAN and PROGRAM RISK ANALYSIS

INL will work with recipient organizations to implement the appropriate monitoring and evaluation plan that meets both the needs of the bureau and the implementing partner. Incorporating a well-designed monitoring and evaluation component into a project is one of the most efficient methods of documenting the progress and potential success of a program. Successful monitoring and evaluation depend on the following:

- Setting objectives that are specific, measurable, attainable, results-focused, and placed in a reasonable time frame (SMART);
- Linking project activities to stated objectives;
- Developing key performance indicators that measure realistic progress towards the objectives.

INL expects implementing organizations will track participants or partners as appropriate and be able to respond to key evaluation questions, including satisfaction with the program/training, information learned as a result of the program/training, changes in attitude and behavior as a result of the program, and effects of the program on institutions in which participants work or partner with. Applicants should include the monitoring and evaluation process in their timeline.

Recipients will be required to provide reports with an analysis and summary of their findings, both quantitative and qualitative, in their regular quarterly progress reports to INL.

The monitoring and evaluation plan should include, at a minimum, the following elements:

- A results “Logic Model” planning document (see sample Logic Model template attached as a sample document)
- Indicators, as described in Tab A, as well as details on how each indicator will be measured, frequency of the measurements, units of measure, etc. Provide indicators at the output and outcome levels. Monitoring and evaluation plans should include a chart component that clearly delineates indicators and targets. All indicators must include measurable, numerical targets.
- Establish, where possible, performance baseline data and expected performance targets for each indicator/outcome. In some cases, the baseline may be zero.
- Describe monitoring and evaluation tools, such as rapid assessment surveys, site visits, key stakeholder interviews, etc., that will be used.
- Plans should describe how the project’s impact and effectiveness will be monitored and evaluated throughout the project.

INL has included a sample Monitoring and Evaluation template as an attachment to the NOFO.

PROGRAM RISK ANALYSIS

Risks are unavoidable – all programs inherently contain both internal and external risks. However, with proper identification and management, risks can be prepared for, minimized or mitigated. The purpose of a risk analysis is to identify the internal and external risks associated with the proposed program in the application, rate the likelihood of the risks, rate the potential impact of the risks on the program, and identify actions that could help mitigate the risks. A risk analysis should not be considered a one-time exercise or a static document. INL defers to organizations to conduct adequate risk analysis and remediation for all of its operations and advises that risk analysis and remediation occur throughout the life of a program and should result in revisions to risk analysis documents and processes as necessary. Applicants should include all assumptions and external factors identified in the logic model in the risk analysis. Applicants should rate the likelihood of a risk and potential impact of the risk as “High,” “Medium,” or “Low.” A sample template is provided as an attachment to this NOFO via www.grants.gov.

TAB C: BUDGET GUIDELINES

Complete budgets will provide a detailed line-item budget outlining specific cost requirements for proposed activities. A minimum of three columns should be used to delineate the bureau funding request, cost-share by applicant, and total project funding. Complete applications will include a budget narrative to clarify and justify individual line-items (i.e. calculations of how the costs were derived per month or year, their necessity, and overall contribution to the program's cost-effectiveness).

The three-column proposal line item budget should include the following components, in the suggested format below:

Note: This budget is designed to serve as an example of the format for complete budget submissions and is NOT exhaustive. Individual line items included in each applicant's budget should reflect specific program activities. (pax = participants)

Before grants are awarded, INL reserves the right to reduce, revise, or increase proposal budgets in accordance with the needs of the INL program and availability of funds.

As mentioned above, the detailed budget should also include an accompanying budget narrative document that explains and justifies each line item, in the suggested format below:

LINE-ITEM BUDGET NARRATIVE –

A. Personnel – Identify staffing requirements by each position title and brief description of duties. For clarity, please list the annual salary of each position, percentage of time and number of months devoted to the project. (e.g., Administrative Director: $30,000/year x 25% x 8.5 months; calculation: $$30,000/12 = $2,500 \times 25\% \times 8.5 \text{ months} = $5,312.$).

B. Fringe Benefits - State benefit costs separately from salary costs and explain how benefits are computed for each category of employee - specify type and rate. Fringe benefit application must be consistent with organization's written policy.

C. Travel - Staff and any participant travel (Note: Staff refers to grantee staff only, and not sub-grantee staff or contractors):

1) international and/or domestic airfare - Please indicate origin and destination (country/city), number of travelers and unit cost per round trip

NOTE: All travel must be booked with economy class fares only. Applicants must explain differences in fares among travelers on the same routes. Note that all travel, where applicable, must comply with the Fly America Act. For more information see <http://www.gsa.gov/portal/content/103191>.

2) in-country travel - Please indicate origin and destination (city), type of transportation, number of travelers and unit cost per traveler per trip.

3) per diem/maintenance: includes lodging, meals and incidentals for both participant and staff travel. Rates of maximum allowances for U.S. and foreign travel are available from the following website: <http://www.policyworks.gov/>. Per diem rates may not exceed the published U.S. government allowance rates; however, institutions may use per diem rates lower than official government rates.

NOTE: Per diem rates must be prorated and/or removed if applicant will pay for refreshments and/or meals for participants during a workshop/conference.

D. Equipment – please provide justification for any equipment purchase/rental, defined as tangible personal property having a useful life of more than one year and an acquisition cost of $5000 or more.

E. Supplies - list items separately using unit costs (and the percentage of each unit cost being charged to the grant) for photocopying, postage, telephone/fax, printing, and office supplies (e.g., Telephone: $$50/\text{month} \times 50\% = $25/\text{month} \times 12 \text{ months}$).

F. Contractual –

a) Subgrants - For each subgrant/contract please provide a detailed line-item budget breakdown explaining specific services. Please provide a subgrant budget using the approved OMB budget format. (See Tab C: Budget Guidelines, above.)

b) Consultant Fees - For example lecture fees, honoraria, travel, and per diem for outside speakers or independent evaluators: list number of people and rates per day (e.g., $2 \times $150/\text{day} \times 2 \text{ days}$). Consultant/outside expert fees/honoraria should be consistent with the level of experience and based on a fair market value. (NOTE: Consultant Fees and Honorarium should NOT EXCEED $526/day)

G. Other Direct Costs - these will vary depending on the nature of the project. The inclusion of each should be justified in the budget narrative. All costs must be allowable, allocable, and reasonable, and consistent with OMB guidelines. Line items such as “Miscellaneous,” “Other,” “Contingency Fund,” and “Reserve Fund” are not permitted.

H. Indirect Charges - See 2 CFR 200.414 , "Indirect Costs"

- 1) If your organization has an indirect cost-rate agreement with the U.S. Government, please include a copy of this agreement. Please specify if your organization elects to charge the de minimis rate of 10% of the modified total direct costs. This does not count against submission page limitations.
- 2) If your organization is charging an indirect rate, please indicate how the rate is applied--to direct administrative expenses, to all direct costs, to wages and salaries only, etc.
- 3) Do not include indirect costs against participant expenses in the Bureau budget, as it generally does not pay for these costs.

Cost Share/Cost-Effectiveness - Explanation of contributions should be included in the budget narrative, whether cash or in-kind. Assign a monetary value in U.S. dollars to each in-kind contribution. If the proposed project is a component of a larger program, identify other funding sources for the proposal and indicate the specific funding amount to be provided by those sources. In addition, it is recommended that budget narratives address the overall cost-effectiveness of the proposal, including leveraging of institutional or other resources. Cost sharing or matching refers to a portion of project or program cost that is not borne by the Federal Government. Grantees must follow cost sharing or matching policy as stipulated in 2 CFR 200.306. Cost sharing amounts proposed will be incorporated as part of the allowable budget items. If selected for an award, your organization will have to provide the minimum amount of cost sharing as stipulated in the budget approved by the Grants Officer. If your organization does not meet its cost share amount stipulated in the approved budget by the end of the period of performance INL will have the option to (1) reduce its contribution in proportion to your organization's contribution in the event that you do not provide the minimum amount of cost sharing stipulated in the budget or (2) hold your organization accountable for the amount specified in the approved budget.

BUDGET CONDITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS:

The Recipient is reminded that funds provided under this agreement must be used in a manner fully consistent with U.S. law. The recipient agrees that none of the funds provided by this award shall be used to lobby for or against abortion. The recipient agrees that none of the funds provided by this award shall be used to pay for the performance of abortion as a method of family planning or to motivate or coerce any person to practice abortions.

Per 22 CFR 200.307 ((e) (1), (2) and (3) of this section please note the following guidance concerning use of Program Income:

- Program income earned during the project period shall be retained by the recipient and, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the award, shall be used in one or more of the ways listed in the following:
 - 1) Added to funds committed to the project by the Department and recipient and used to further eligible project or program objectives.
 - 2) Used to finance the non-Federal share of the project or program.

- 3) Deducted from the total project or program allowable cost in determining the net allowable costs on which the Federal share of costs is based.
- It is emphasized, however, that the above three alternatives are applicable only when the grantee is a non-profit entity. Any grant to a commercial firm must state that the first of the alternatives is not available for program income earned by the grantee. (GAO noted in its Principles of Federal Appropriations Law at 10-57, that “This approach [option (1)] increases program size. Both OMB and GAO have expressed preference for the deduction method [option (3)] since it results in savings to the federal government and to grantees.”)

INL will consider budgeted line-items for the following:

- External evaluations to assess the project’s impact (costs must be built into the overall original budget proposal and must be reasonable);
- Costs associated with an internal evaluation conducted by the grantee (costs must be built into the overall original budget proposal and must be reasonable);
- Visa fees, immunizations, and medical insurance associated with program travel;
- A-133 Audit or internal audit for the INL program (or prorated costs that is shared among other Federal Assistance grants/contracts)
- English translation (cost must be built into the original budget proposal and must be reasonable)

The following cost elements will not be reimbursed and are not allowable in this program:

- Publication of materials for distribution within the U.S.;
- Administration of a project that will make a profit;
- Expenses incurred before or after the specified dates of award period of performance (unless prior written approval received);
- Projects designed to advocate policy views or positions of foreign governments or views of a particular political faction;
- Entertainment and/or Alcoholic beverages;
- Costs of entertainment, including amusement, diversion, and social activities and any associated costs are unallowable, except where specific costs that might otherwise be considered entertainment have a programmatic purpose and are authorized either in the approved budget for the Federal award or with prior written approval of the Federal awarding agency;
- Land;
- Construction;
- Direct support or the appearance of direct support for individual or single party electoral campaigns;
- Duplication of services immediately available through municipal, provincial, or national government;
- Expenses listed as “miscellaneous”, “other”, or “contingencies”;
- Expenses made prior to the approval of a proposal or unreasonable expenditures will not be reimbursed.

INL may make conditions and recommendations on proposals to enhance proposed programs. Conditions and recommendations are to be addressed by the applicant before approval of the award.

To ensure effective use of INL funds, conditions or recommendations may include requests to increase, decrease, clarify and/or justify budget costs.

[END OF SECTION IV]

SECTION V – APPLICATION REVIEW INFORMATION

The technical applications and proposal submissions will be evaluated in accordance with the Technical Evaluation Criteria set forth below. Technical evaluation of applications will be based on the extent and appropriateness of proposed approaches and feasibility of achieving the strategic objectives, in accordance with the following criteria.

If award is not made on the initial applications, INL may request clarification and supplemental materials from applicants whose applications have a reasonable chance of being selected for award. The entry into discussion is to be viewed as part of the evaluation process and shall not be deemed by INL or the applicants as indicative of a decision or commitment upon the part of INL to make an award to the applicants with whom discussions are being held.

I. TECHNICAL EVALUATION CRITERIA

A technical evaluation committee, using the criteria shown in this Section, will evaluate the technical applications. The various functional elements of the technical criteria are assigned weighted scores, so that the applicants will know which areas require emphasis in the preparation of applications.

Where technical applications are considered essentially equal, cost may be the determining factor. Applicants should note that these criteria serve as the standard against which all applications will be evaluated and serve to identify the significant matters which applicants should address in their applications.

The relative importance of each criterion is indicated by the number of points assigned. A total of 100 points is possible.

Quality of Program Idea (Total Possible Points - 25):

- Responsive to the solicitation (5)
- Appropriate in the country/regional context and aware of trends in investigative journalism (5)
- Exhibits originality, substance, and precision (5)
- Prioritizes innovation but is feasible (5)
- In countries where similar activities are already taking place, provides an explanation as to how new activities will not duplicate or merely add to existing activities (5)

Program Planning/Ability to Achieve Objectives (Total Possible Points – 25):

- Includes a clear articulation of how the proposed program activities contribute to the overall program objectives (3)
- Each activity is clearly developed and detailed (3)
- Provides a comprehensive quarterly work plan for project activities that demonstrates substantive undertakings within the logistical capacity of the organization (3)
- Objectives are clear, specific, attainable, measurable results-focused and placed in a reasonable time frame (3)
- Addresses how the program will engage or obtain support from relevant stakeholders and identifies local partners where appropriate (3)
- Describes the division of labor among the direct applicant, any partners and any potential subgrantees (2)

- Proposal clearly articulates understanding of the security situation/operating environment and plans for ensuring safety of participants (2)
- Includes contingency plans for potential difficulties in executing the original work plan (6)

Applications that have more efficient operational systems that reduce operation costs will be favorably considered.

Applications that maximize direct activity costs including cost sharing and that minimize administrative costs are encouraged. Other considerations are the completeness of the application, adequacy of budget detail and consistency with elements of the technical application. In addition, the organization must demonstrate adequate financial management capability, to be measured by a responsibility determination.
